Posthumous Nobel Prize

(From Our Own Correspondent)

London, Aug. 15.

I see that some Austrian papers announce that a committee has been formed to advance the posthumous claims of Dr. Dollfuss for the Nobel Peace Prize. The Austrian League of Nations, Union is taking a leading part in the movement.

The sponsors of the scheme are putting forward Dr. Dollfuss's claims on the grounds that by his courageous defence of Austria in independence he saved Europe from serious international complications.

The prize, which is worth just under $7,000, has been awarded in the past to such international figures as Sir Austen Chamberlain, Mr. Kellogg, M. Briand and Herr Stresemann.

For the last two years the prize has not been given. If this posthumous award were made it would, of course, go to Frau Dollfuss, who has just been granted her husband's salary for life.

COACHING EX-AMBASSADOR

Mr. Andrew Mellon, who arrived in England on Wednesday, vanished with Garbo-esque thoroughness immediately after landing.

The American Embassy in London had no knowledge of his whereabouts, and the West-end hotel at which he usually stays when in London was equally puzzled.

Mr. Mellon is likely to head north for Scotland, where his daughter, Mrs. David Bruce, has a shooting-box. The ex-Ambassador is very fond of the Northern Kingdom, which he first visited in the nineties.

On that occasion Mr. Mellon and some American friends toured England and Scotland in a four-in-hand coach. Mr. Mellon did most of the driving.

The tour took two months, the same four horses taking them all the way.

AN AMERICAN KNIGHT

Sudden illness has interrupted the plans of Maj.-Gen. John O'Ryan, New York's police chief, who was to have sailed for England in the Olympic to-day. Gen. O'Ryan is one of the few Americans to have been offered and to have accepted a knighthood.

He was given the K.C.M.G. for his war services in command of the famous 27th Division, raised from the New York National Guard. The Division was always in close contact with the British, and took part in the Victory March through London.

Gen. O'Ryan cannot use his title in America, but presumably becomes Sir John once outside the three-mile limit.

He has a great reputation for organisation and incorruptibility.

"BROWN BOOK" ON REVOLT

Germany To Be Accused

Vienna, Aug. 28.

It is officially stated that the Austrian Government will publish shortly, before the next meeting of the League Assembly, a "Brown Book" on the July revolt in Vienna which led to the murder of Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss.

It is understood that it will accuse Germany of complicity in the Nazi push.

It is reliably stated that the German Vice Chancellor and Minister to Austria, Captain von Papen, will not return from Germany until after its publication, and that he will not be compelled to declare Germany's viewpoint.

MAN AND WOMAN IN A DUEL

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.))

Rome, Aug. 28.

An extraordinary duel took place on Tuesday in the small town not far from Naples. A man and a woman had lived together for a long time but in the last few months they were continually quarrelling and decided to put an end to their unhappiness by fighting a duel to the end. They chose revolvers as weapons. The woman being a better shot, wounded her friend dangerously but herself escaped with a slight scratch.

Transocean Kuo Min.

He stood against La Guardia for the Mayoralty of New York, and was immediately after the contest appointed police chief by his victorious opponent.

AT THE AGE LIMIT

I see that French statesmen are considering what is to be done on Jan. 21, 1935. On that day Gen. Weygand reaches the age limit of 65.

If he is to retain his post as Chief of Staff after his next birthday a special bill must be introduced.

I hear that the powerful Radical-Socialist group in the Chamber, which has just been discussing what attitude it will adopt in the matter, inclines to the view that Gen. Weygand's services are indispensable at the present juncture.

In England the age limit for generals is 67. But a Field-Marshal in the British Army remains always on the active list.

While the same rule, I believe, holds in France, its utility is curtailed by the fact that promotion to the rank of Marshal of France can only be given for service in the field.

WOMEN'S WORLD GAMES

Brilliant Performance At The White City

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 11.

The Women's World Games began quietly at the White City yesterday. It rained early in the morning, but by ten o'clock the sun was shining and the flags on the roof of the stand fluttered gaily. The proceedings resembled more a garden party than a world's championship meeting, for there were only a hundred spectators in the stands as opposed to about two hundred officials, competitors, and others in the middle of the ground. Chief entertainment was caused by the efforts of H. M. Abrahams to pronounce strange Polish and Hungarian names, and his repeated calls for missing competitors and officials.

Suddenly two reports of the starter's pistol for a false start announced that we were off. The six first-round heats of the 60 metres were soon decided. Miss Walasiewicz, the holder of the world's record, fittingly won the first heat; she was not pressed, and looked to have a lot in reserve. The two English competitors, Miss Johnson and Miss Maguire, won their heats, but the most impressive performance was that of Miss Schuurman (Holland), who won a heat with a ridiculous ease in 7.5 secs. Fri. Mauermeyer began her pentathlon events well in the 100 metres and outclassed all others with the weight. She is a massive person, but by no means muscle-bound; her weight-putting was superb, particularly the last drive as the weight is delivered.

The Parade

There was a most disappointing attendance in the afternoon, when the Games were officially declared open by Lord Desborough. The ceremonial march of the competitors and the two brief speeches made by Lord Deedes and Lord Desborough were admirable. The most striking company were the Germans, whose bearing throughout, particularly during the salute and the National Anthem, was superb. As the last winners, they came next after the band and Miss E. Hiscock, and one could not help wishing that they might win again—an unpatriotic feeling perhaps, but one aroused naturally by the sight of grace, physical perfection, and efficiency combined. (The solitary Latvian in the march, the two Hungarians, and the two South Africans earned special applause from the crowd. The German flags were draped with black in mourning for the late President Hindenburg.)

The first semi-final of the 60 metres began nearly 25 minutes late. This was much the strongest heat, and for one moment it looked as though Miss Walasiewicz would be beaten or even unplaced. She was slow out of her marks and at 30 metres was still behind. Then she came with a great rush and just nosed out Miss Johnson on the tape. In the other semi-final Miss Schuurman ran right away from the field; there was a blanket finish between four other runners, of whom Fri. Kuhlmann and Miss Maguire were the lucky ones.

The hurdles brought great excitement to all and sundry. Signorina Vaila (Italy) hurdled beautifully and just beat Miss Webb. In the second heat Miss Clark (South Africa) began to let herself go at 40 metres, and then no one could live with her. The fourth heat was won by Fri. Englehard, who returned 11.4-5 in the German championships and may well win the final. One competitor broke twice and was, in accordance with international rules, disqualified. An unruly and ignorant section of the crowd barracked the starter for a long time and calm was restored only when H. M. Abrahams had explained the rule. The offending runner had realised at once that she was automatically disqualified without the option and made no fuss whatever.

The 100 metres and 200 metres heats were not particularly exciting, as races, and the times must not be considered seriously, yet in many cases the winners were easing up some way from the tape. They did, however, show that Miss Walasiewicz is not going to have things all her own way, for Germany has two sprinters who may break the world's records, Fri. Krauss, who won the German 200 metres in 24.3-sec., ran away with her heat of the 100 metres in 12

1-5 sec., and then came home second, without bothering to lengthen out at all, in her 200 metres heat. Fri. Dollinger, the German second string, was equally impressive. Miss Maguire should be well up in the final of the 100 metres. Five were to qualify in each heat of the 800 metres. Nevertheless, in the first of the two heats Miss Lunn (England) and Miss Koubkova (Czechoslovakia) fought out the last inch. Miss Lunn winning on the post. Miss Koubkova appeared to have more in reserve. Miss Lunn having made the pace from start to finish.

The D. G. A. Lowe Touch

The other race brought one of the greatest moments of the day. Fri. Radke (German) and Miss Jones (England) were each prominent in turn, and Miss Jones led at the end of the back straight in the second lap. Suddenly a figure in pale blue shorts lengthened out and strode past majestically, for all the world like D. G. A. Lowe jumping his opponents with that devastating yet smooth rush which leaves all standing. Miss Wielman (Sweden), for this was her name, as we discovered later, took it easy in the straight and won by only two yards, but it is difficult to believe that she will not win the final. Fri. Radke may have been holding herself in; she looked to be only a shadow of her former self. The style was there, the beautiful stride and the perfect economy of effort, but the dash was somehow missing.

The relay heats were uneventful, apart from the disqualification of Canada for a foul change. The German team must be almost invincible. They are as fast as, or faster than, their opponents individually, and their baton changing is faultless. They will win this event, as they will win many others. Great Britain had no difficulty in beating the others in their heat, but they were not convincing. Palestine finished last by about a hundred yards; their gesture in entering is, however, to be applauded.

Evening was falling fast when Fri. Mauermeyer crowned a great day's work with javelin, discus, and weight by beating the British record for the weight by more than eleven feet. As she stood on the winner's dais and as the crowd rose to their feet for the German National Anthem the sun shone out over the stand for the last time and turned all the track on each side of her to a fiery red. Lighting up her hair and framing the greatest all-round woman athlete of our time—greater, perhaps, even than the late Miss K. Ellam, of Japan. After this the remains of hazena and javelin throwing were unworthy.

JAPAN ON THE TELEPHONE

First Talk From London

London, Aug. 15.

To-day, for the first time, Japan will be linked by telephone with Britain.

From the International Telephone Exchange in London the Japanese women athletes over here for the women's world Games will speak across 6,500 miles to their friends in Tokio. There the circuit will be connected to the radio system, and every station in Japan will broadcast the conversation.

One of the speakers will be Miss Yamamoto, who was accidentally hurt by a javelin just before the opening of the games. All sports enthusiasts in Japan have been anxiously watching her progress, and to-day they will be able to hear the news of her recovery from her own lips.

Mr. Ishikawa, one of those in charge of the Japanese team, told a Press representative yesterday how this epoch-making telephone talk came to be arranged.

"The suggestion first came from our broadcasting station in Tokio," he said. "They asked me to inquire whether the B.B.C. could undertake the broadcast. But the B.B.C. declined, because the conversations would be in Japanese, unintelligible to English listeners."

"I was advised to try the Post Office. There I found that arrangements were already well advanced for a regular telephone service to Japan, following the temporary circuit which was so successfully put into operation at Christmas when the King spoke to the world. The engineers at once welcomed this opportunity of testing the communication in its experimental stage."

"We have not yet told the girls that they are to talk to Japan. We were afraid it might make them nervous and interfere with their training; but the news will probably be broken to them to-night."

VETERANS TAKE TO THE AIR

Doctor Passed As Pilot At 69

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 18. Dr. J. E. Thomson, who is 69 and lives and works in the Malay States, has just taken his pilot's "A" certificate at the Heston aerodrome. He hopes to use an aeroplane in his practice.

His success means the loss of a substantial bet of the Sultan of Johore. The Sultan, who knows Dr. Thomson, bet a mutual friend that the doctor would not be able to get the certificate at such an age.

Dr. Thomson yesterday informed a Press representative that he had done some flying in the Malay States, but took his first serious lessons at Heston last year. He had completed his course here this year.

"Johore is my headquarters," he continued, "and I have also an office at Singapore. If I realize my ambition of getting an aeroplane it would be of immense service to me in my practice, and would mean a great deal to patients in a serious condition. Sometimes I have to go great distances northward in the Malay Peninsula—100 miles is not extraordinary—and on occasion I have had to travel 200 miles."

"As medical officer to extensive plantations, I have to make these journeys by motor-car. An immense saving of time would be effected by the use of the air."

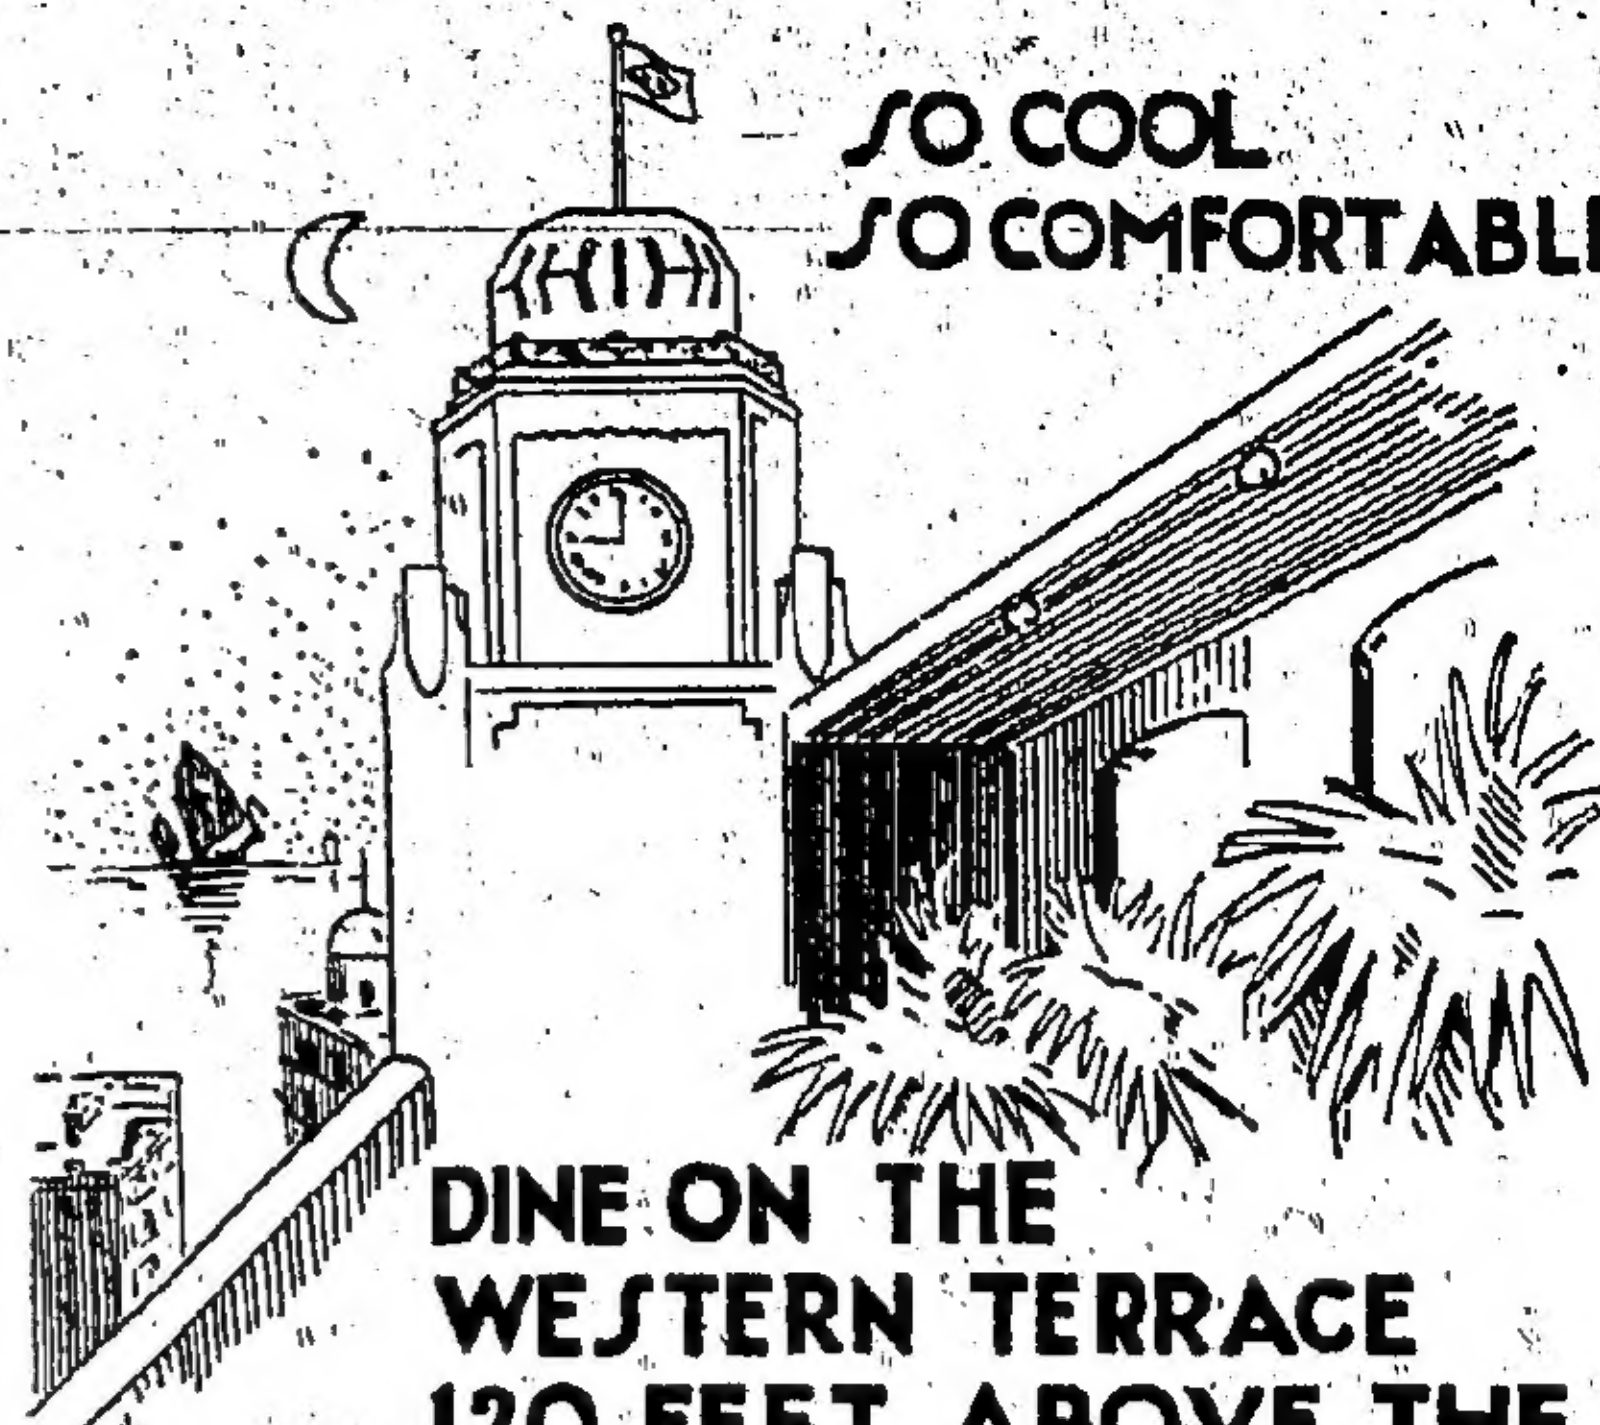

Dr. Thomson, who looks much younger than his years, is it was stated at Heston, as keen as a youthful enthusiast. "He handled the machine beautifully and passed the official test easily," said his instructor, Capt. V. H. Baker.

Another veteran, Mr. Douglas Rawcott, made his first solo flight at Heston yesterday, at the age of 68. He is anxious to fly over the Alps and take photographs of the peaks.

MISS NUTHALL LOSES

Surprise In U.S. Tennis Championships

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 15. Miss Betty Nuthall was beaten in the second round of the singles in the American women's lawn tennis championships to-day, by Baroness Maud Levi, who is ranked sixth in the United States, by 6-4, 6-4.

Her defeat was a blow to the hopes of her supporters, who had confidently expected that she would, at least, reach the final.

COL. WRIGHT'S DEATH

32 Years' Medical Service In India

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 15. An inquest will be held to-day at Maidenhead on the body of Lieutenant-Colonel Edmund Hasell Wright, Indian Medical Service (retired), of Woking, who was found dead, with head injuries, outside a nursing home at Winkfield, near Ascot, early on Monday morning. He had been a patient in the nursing home for four weeks, and was found lying on the ground outside his bedroom window. He was in his night clothes, and had apparently fallen over 20ft. and been killed instantly.

Colonel Wright, who was about 72 years of age, retired from the Army 12 years ago. His son, Captain Wright, said yesterday that his father had been ill for about 11 years. He spent 32 years in the Indian Medical Service. He made a special study of the tropical diseases common there, and his strenuous work impaired his health. When he retired he went to live in Switzerland. He went to live at Woking three years ago. Captain Wright added that his father practised among the native population in India, and made valuable contributions to medical science on diseases to which the natives were subject. At the time of his death he was planning a treatise on his studies of disease.

The match of the day, however, was that between Miss K. Stammers, another member of the British team, and Mrs. M. Painter, which the British girl won by 1-6, 6-4, 11-9.

Other results were: Miss Helen Jacobs (holder of the title) bt Miss Jane Sharp, 6-4, 6-1. Miss Sarah Palfrey bt Miss Mae Cuervo, 6-0, 6-2. Miss Freda James bt Mrs. Van Ryn, 6-2, 6-8, 6-1.

DISEASE BACILLI

Sown Among Cattle

Harbin, Aug. 24.

With the ink not yet dry on the Soviet Union's protest against arrest of Russian railway workers on "silly charges," Japanese sources to-day were broadcasting suspicions that Soviet aeroplanes had scattered virulent bacilli causing the outbreak of a serious epidemic amongst Manchurian livestock.

More than 2,000 horses and oxen in the vicinity of Alfun and Peilanchen, on the western side of the Sianlo Hinggan range, have died during the past two weeks, it was reported here to-day.

Natives of the affected district are in a panic over the wholesale loss of their livestock and have appealed to the Japanese authorities in Harbin for assistance.

Japanese military veterinary experts, were sent from Harbin to investigate and found that the scourge was a malignant epidemic of a type hitherto believed to be peculiar to Siberia.

In view of the fact that the epidemic originated near the Heling River and thence invaded the southern districts, the suspicion was expressed in Japanese circles here that bacilli may have been scattered over the territory by Soviet aeroplanes.

It was said that the Manchoukuo Government is expected to take "counter-measures" as soon as the truth regarding the epidemic and its origin is discovered.

H.M.S. TERROR II.

To Be Base Ship at Singapore

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 15. The Board of Admiralty has approved of one of the small craft Singapore being commissioned in the name of Terror II, as a base ship at Singapore in place of Terror III.

It has also been decided that the appointment in charge at Singapore is to be held by a Commodore of the Second Class.

Capt. W. P. Mark-Wardlaw, D.S., is appointed to H.M.S. Tamar, additional, to date July 20. H.M.S. Terror II, is commissioned, and to H.M.S. Terror II, command, and as Commodore, in charge at Singapore, is Capt. W. R. J. Maxwell.

BANDITS SEIZE

AMERICAN

A Mystery Woman

Peking, Aug. 24.

Mr. Solomon Zeitlin, a fur buyer believed to be an American citizen, has been kidnapped by bandits, the United States Legation was informed to-day by consular officials at Mukden.

The marauders seized Mr. Zeitlin and a Russian woman companion near Peking, but subsequently released the woman, who returned to Mukden and advised the authorities that the brigands were holding the furrier for ransom.

Mukden consular officials said that they had requested the Manchoukuo police and the Japanese garrison to co-operate in rescuing the prisoner, who is a resident of Tientsin.

Not an Elopement

A bandits' messenger bringing in demands has been arrested, upsetting an earlier police theory that the disappearance of Mr. Zeitlin and the Russian woman was merely an elopement.

It is understood that the woman was released after 48 hours, but Mr. Zeitlin is still being held while the customary threats and demands are being sent in.

An Elusive Woman

Mukden, Aug. 24. Japanese consular police here to-day enlisted the aid of the Manchoukuo authorities in their search for the Russian woman, who is said to have been captured with Mr. Zeitlin, for whose ransom the Mukden Hebrew Society yesterday received a demand for Y. 2,000.

Mr. Zeitlin was enjoying a picnic with the Russian woman at the time of his capture.

The woman, if actually taken by the bandits, is reported to have been seen at a Chinese restaurant at Nanwa-dori, in the G.M.R. Zone, at noon yesterday by Mr. Walter Mitchell, local correspondent of the Associated Press, who immediately reported his discovery to the Japanese Consulate-General. She was accompanied by a suspicious-looking Chinese.

A squad of consular police immediately visited the restaurant but she was not to be found.

Scott, D.S.O., from date of joining. Capt. Mark-Wardlaw will leave Port Said to-day in the liner Rawalpindi for Singapore.

These Meat Dishes Are As Savoury As They Are Thrifty

It's easy to produce wholesome and palatable meals when you have as much money as you need to spend. But if you haven't then the need for economy of eating leads into a rut and appetites lag from the sheer monotony of eating the same food done in the same way over and over again.

Unusual seasonings, however, can do so much for every meat dish.

Here's a Chili Con Carne that calls for pork in place of beef and adds corn and okra in place of the traditional beans.

Chili Con Carne

One and one-half pounds lean pork, 1/3 cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1 clove garlic, 1 cup sliced tomatoes, 1 cup water, 1 cup corn, cut from cob, 1 cup okra cut in diamonds, 1 tablespoon chili powder.

Remove fat from pork and fry out in a frying pan. Cut lean meat in small cubes and toss in flour which has been mixed with salt and pepper. Mince garlic and add to hot pork fat. Sauté prepared meat in hot fat until brown. Mix chili powder to a smooth paste with about 1 tablespoon water and add to tomatoes and water which have been heated to the boiling point. Put a layer of meat in casserole, cover with a layer of corn and okra and then another layer of meat. Continue layer for layer until all is used. Pour over tomato mixture, cover casserole and bake in a moderate oven for two hours or until meat is tender. Serve from casserole.

Casserole of Hamburg and Potatoes

This meat and vegetable combination depends on powdered sage and crushed bayleaf for its seasoning.

One pound round steak ground, 1 teaspoon powdered sage, 1 crushed bayleaf, 4 to 6 potatoes, 2 medium sized onions, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, paprika.

Trim suet from beef steak and fry out fat. Put steak through food chopper and season with sage, bayleaf, salt and pepper. Brown quickly in hot fat. Put a layer of thinly sliced potatoes in casserole. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and cover with a layer of meat. Add a layer of onions thinly sliced and cover with a layer of tomatoes. Continue layer or layer until all is used, putting dots of butter on each layer potatoes. Make the top layer of potatoes and sprinkle with paprika. Cover and bake two hours in a moderate oven, removing cover for last half hour to brown top.

Meat and Tomato Pie

Two cups chopped tomatoes, 2 tablespoons flour, 2 tablespoons bacon fat, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups chopped meat of any kind, 1 cup flour, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons shortening, 1 tea-

1 cup French dressing
4 slices cooked bacon
Cooked salad dressing

Jellied Vegetable Salad

2 tablespoons gelatin
1 cup cold water
2 cups boiling water
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup vinegar
1 chopped onion
1 cup shredded cabbage
1 cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped pimientos

2 tablespoons chopped olives

Soak gelatin in cold water. Stir in boiling water, sugar, and salt. Add vinegar, chill until mixture begins to thicken. Pour into a mold in alternate layers with the vegetables. Chill in refrigerator until set, turn out on platter and garnish with jelly, lettuce and mayonnaise. Any combination of vegetables or fruit may be used with this foundation. Fruit juice may replace part of the boiling water.

Tomato Jelly

1 can tomato soup
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons gelatin
1 cup cold water

Seasoning

Combine tomato soup with boiling water. Soak gelatin in cold water and stir into hot mixture. Add seasoning to taste, chill in refrigerator until set. (Any or all of the following seasonings may be used: 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 6 cloves, celery seed, or a bay leaf).

spoon salt, 1 cup milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

Heat bacon fat and add meat. Stir and cook until brown. Stir over flour and mix thoroughly. Add tomatoes, onion and parsley and bring to the boiling point. Season with salt and pepper and pour into a well buttered baking dish. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder and rub in shortening. Beat egg until light and add with milk, cutting it into flour with a knife. Spread roughly over mixture in baking dish which has been baking in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (375 degrees F.) and bake thirty minutes longer, until crust is well done and brown. Serve from baking dish.

"HEAT WAVE" MEALS

Here are some "heat wave" suggestions for the evening meal which may be helpful alike to the hostess or the housewife faced with family catering. They make cool beginnings for summer dinners.

CUCUMBER BASKETS

Choose large cucumbers, peel them and cut into three-inch lengths. Make these into baskets, leaving a handle on top and scooping out the seeds with a sharp knife.

Cut a piece from underneath so that they will stand.

Chop some prawns, mix with chopped yolks of hard-boiled eggs, a little cream, salt, pepper, and paprika. Fill the baskets with the mixture, and put in the ice box to become very cold. Serve on rounds of buttered bread, bordered with pink mayonnaise.

Frozen Cheese and Fruit

1 cream cheese
1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons crushed pineapple
1 cup nut meats
1/2 bananas, sliced
1 cup whipping cream

Combine cheese, mayonnaise, lemon juice and salt. Mix in pineapple and nuts. Fold in bananas and whipping cream. Turn into refrigerator tray and freeze 4 hours. Slice and serve on lettuce with French dressing.

Cottage Cheese Salad

1 pound cottage cheese
1 cup minced chives or onions
1 teaspoon paprika

Cream

Add seasoning to cheese and add cream, to soften. Pack in a small greased bowl or mold. Chill in refrigerator an hour or more. Serve with a vegetable salad. Cream cheese may replace cottage cheese.

Variations: arrange spoonful of current or guava jelly around mold. Make cheese mixture into balls and serve in a bowl of lettuce dressed with sweet-sour dressing.

Ham Rolls

1 pound cottage cheese
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 pounds sliced boiled ham

Salt

Mix cheese with seasonings and form into small rolls. Wrap each in a slice of thin ham. Chill in refrigerator at least half an hour. Serve with salad or as an appetizer.

Variations: Two tablespoons of Roquefort cheese may be mixed with the milder cheese instead of the minced onion.

Dried beef may replace the ham.

When ham rolls are used for an appetizer, a toothpick may be inserted in each roll.

SALMON BOATS

Large cucumbers are required for these, too, but this time cut in half lengthways, and cut into boats.

Line generously with thinly-sliced smoked salmon, and fill with a paste made by mixing chopped hard-boiled eggs with mayonnaise and anchovy paste. Decorate with strips of pimiento.

LEMON PRAWNS

Fill grape-fruits glasses with cracked ice, and allow half a large lemon for each person.

Stick the sharp-prongs of the prawns into the lemon skin, and fill up all the space between with parsley, covering the whole of the piece of lemon. Serve on the glasses of ice.

ICED TOMATO COCKTAILS

Allow the juice of half a lemon, a teaspoonful of tomato catsup, and half a teaspoonful of piquant sauce to each half-pint of tomato juice.

Fill small glasses with the iced mixture, and press into grape-fruit glasses of cracked ice. Decorate with sprigs of parsley.

BRAISED BEEF

1 1/2 pounds top round beef
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons fat
1 1/2 cups water
1 cup diced carrots
2 tablespoons chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped celery

Whip beef with damp cloth and cut meat into one-inch pieces. Roll in flour, sprinkle with salt. Brown in fat heated in frying pan or kettle. Add water and lid, cook 20 minutes. Stir frequently, add rest of ingredients, cook 10 minutes. Mix 2 tablespoons flour with 1/2 tablespoons butter and add to mixture; cook until creamy and a little thick. Stir constantly.

Nothing Equals 'ASPRO' for Dengue & Rheumatism

Selby's Estate,
Ingham, North Queensland.

Dear Sirs,
Having used your 'ASPRO' for Dengue Fever and also for Rheumatism, I have found that nothing equals 'ASPRO' for relief from pain.

I was very bad the last week in December, and could not sleep with Rheumatism in my legs. A neighbour called to see me, and she told me that 'ASPRO' Tablets were good for pain. I straightaway sent to the chemist for a box of 'ASPRO' and I can truthfully say that I was surprised at the relief I got after taking the first two 'ASPRO' Tablets—they took away the pain and I could sleep at night. I took three Tablets a night for four nights, and they relieved me, and now I am as well as ever.

Yours faithfully,

'ASPRO' Works Wonders for Malaria

Gladstone, Queensland.

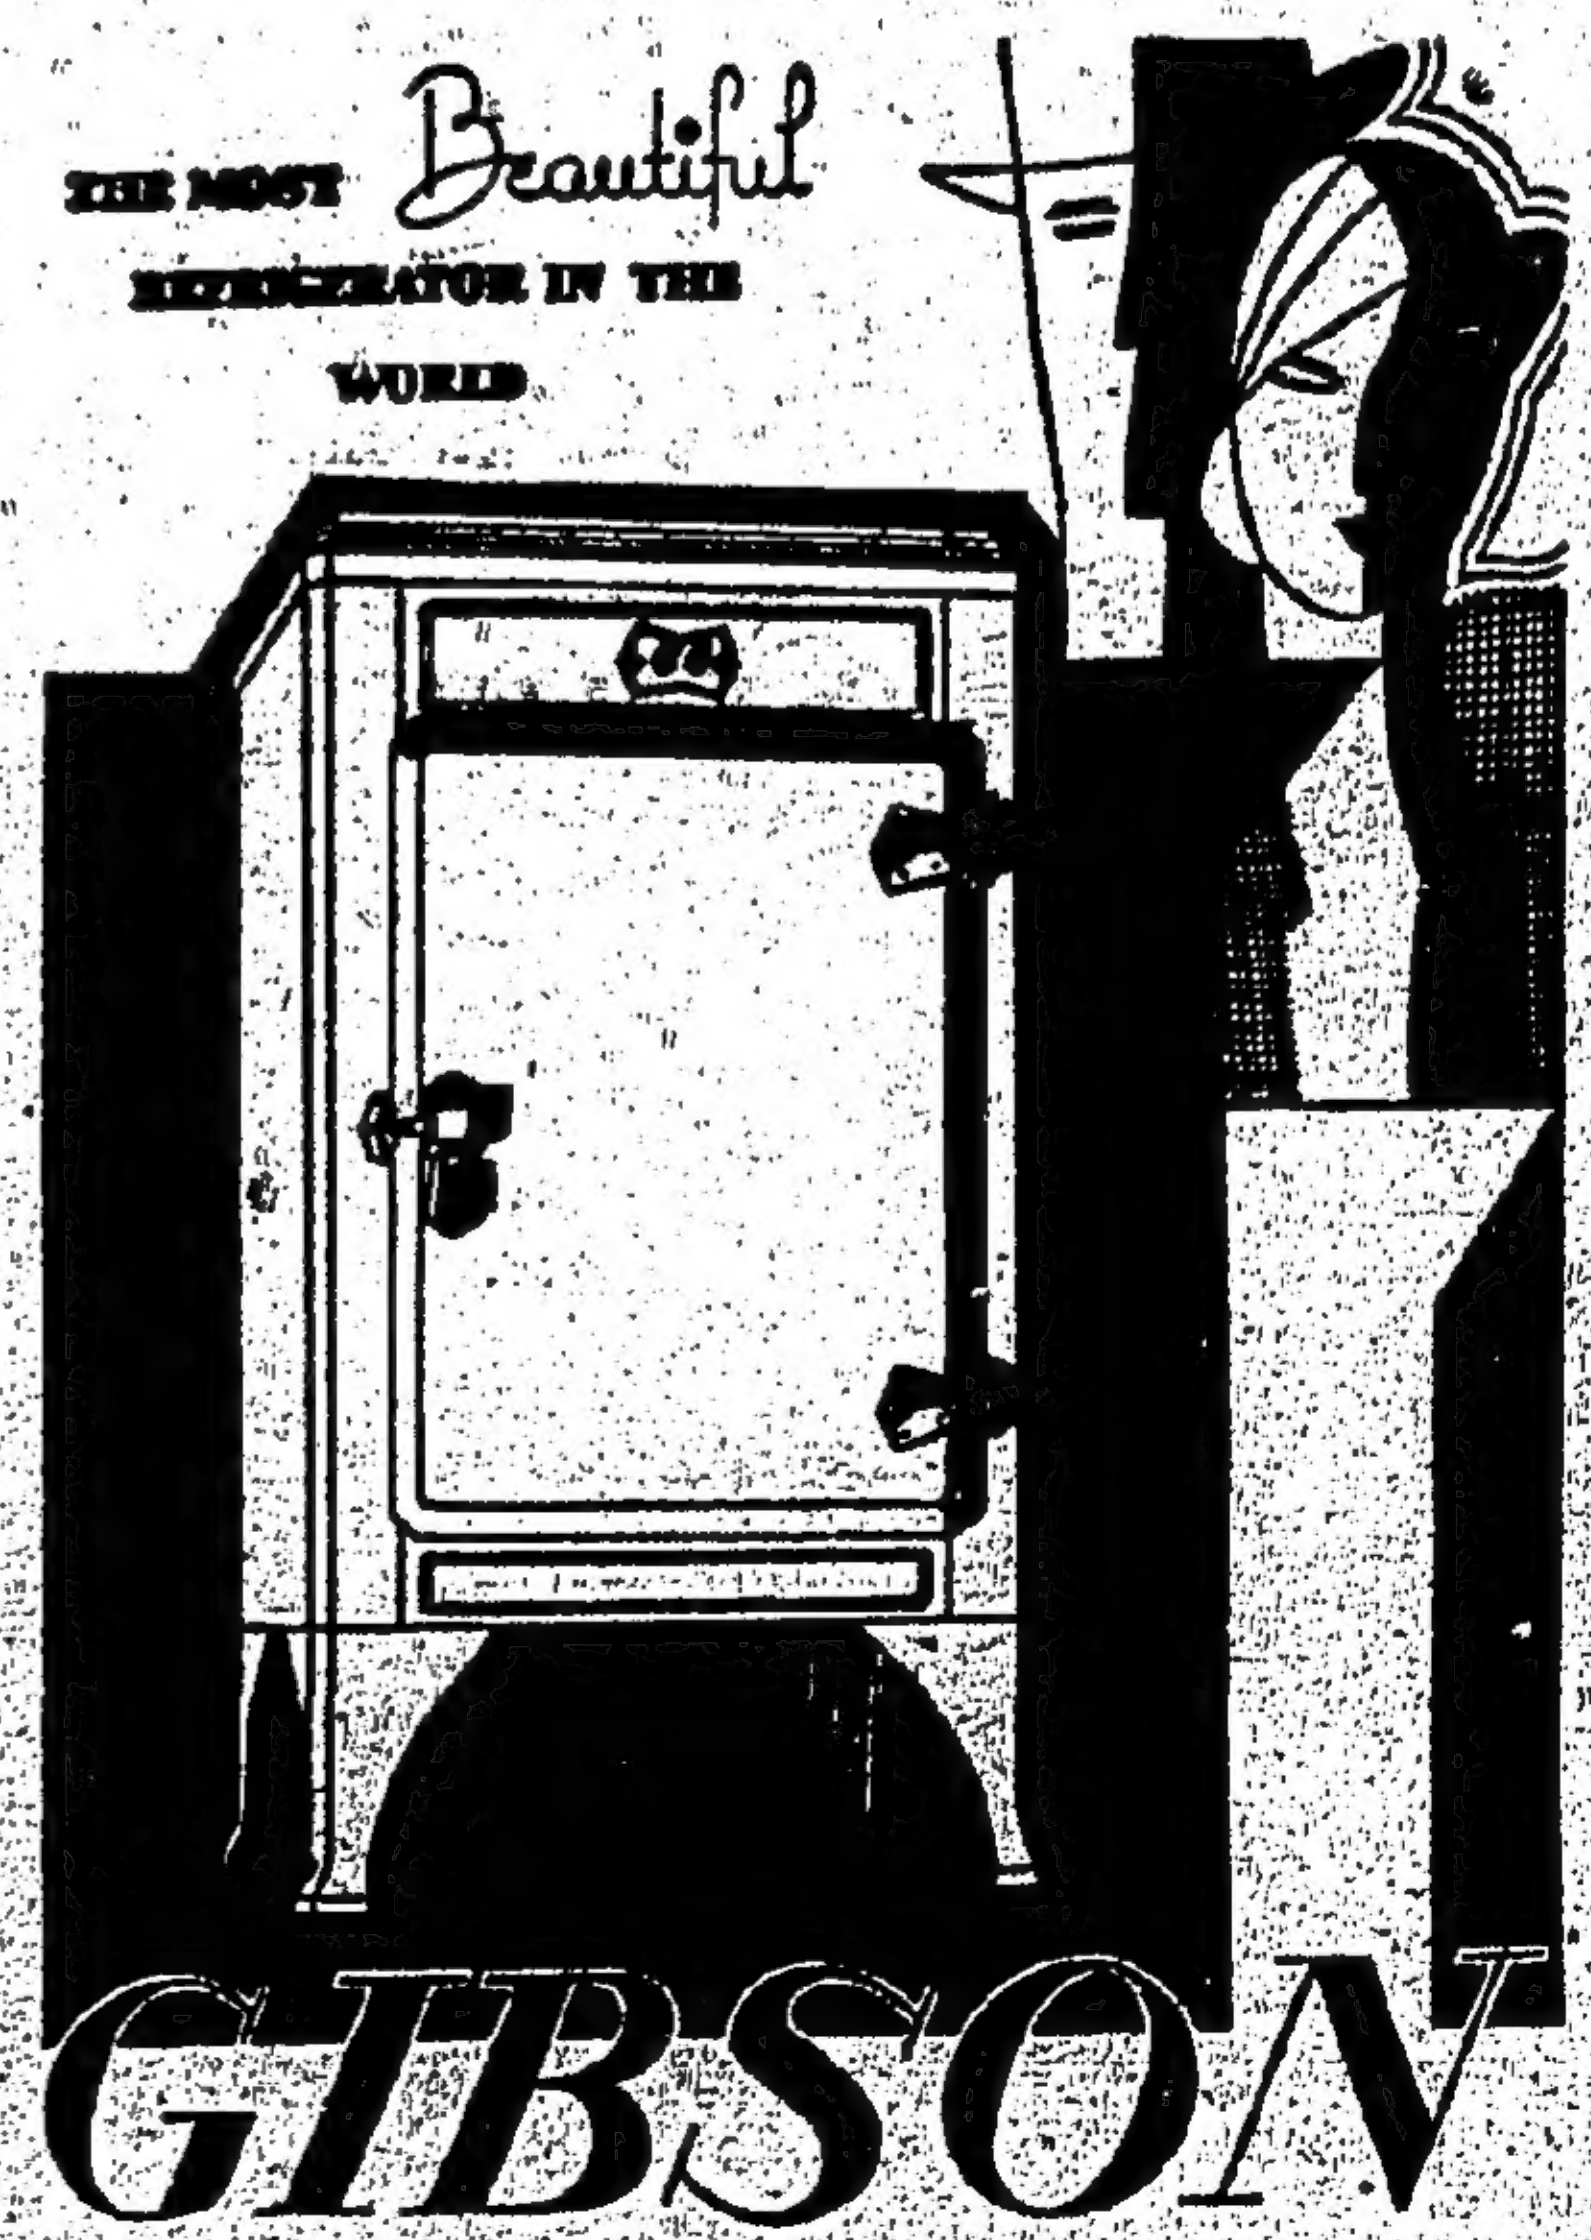

Gentlemen,
I think it is up to me to let you know how I have benefited by 'ASPRO'. Ever since 1910 I have been a sufferer from MALARIA FEVER, having contracted same in Australia, German East Africa and the Straits Settlements.

I came to Australia from the latter country five years ago, and for the first two and a half years was continually in hospital in Victoria and New South Wales. On arriving in Queensland, a friend advised me to try 'ASPRO'. I did, and it has worked wonders. I still continue to get slight attacks of Malaria, but I take a few 'ASPRO' Tablets and, hot lemon water, and rest a few hours, I am quite O.K. again. I wouldn't be without 'ASPRO' for anything and always carry a box about with me. I can thoroughly recommend them to anyone suffering from the same malady.

This testimonial is unsolicited and you may make any use of it that you think fit.

Yours faithfully,

SURREY LEAD AT THE OVAL*Smith Bowls Well For Middlesex

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 15.

During the course of the day's cricket at the Oval yesterday Gregory, who scored 121, reached his 2,000 runs for the first time in his career, and Smith, although he has probably taken six wickets in an innings before, came out with an analysis of six wickets for 98
runs and can seldom have bowled better. Surrey gained a lead of 175 runs on the first innings, and at the close of play, Middlesex, with six wickets in hand in their second innings, still needed 13
runs to save the innings defeat.

Play was begun at 11 o'clock yesterday morning and will start at the same time to-day, and stumps will be drawn at 5 o'clock, or, if the extra half-hour is claimed,
5.30.

Surrey went on yesterday morning quietly consolidating the advantage they had gained on Wednesday. Although runs were scored, the main interest lay in the bowling of Smith, who kept a length over a long spell and more than once persuaded batsmen who had a good sight of the ball to play those strokes of which he instinctively repented. He took the first two wickets that fell.
R. de W. K. Winkler, at 159, held out his bat to a ball that got up and was out to a skilled catch
in the gully, and four runs later,
at 163, Barling placed a ball in a straight instead of a curving line
to the same place.

Gregory's Century
E. R. T. Holmes came in to play an innings in which there were bad strokes as well as good, but the good are so very good that the bad sink into insignificance. In one over from G. O. Allen he hit two 4's, one through the covers,
the other past mid-off, and both were the kind of strokes which conclusively prove that the off-drive, with the left leg well out and the bat following freely
through, is the most satisfying stroke in cricket, technically and aesthetically. Meanwhile Gregory was still in and playing sound if unobtrusive cricket. Still, at 1 o'clock a hundred was on the board under his number and Surrey owed a lot to him. He was not out until the total was 285,
when he drove a ball from Hearne hard back and Hearne took the catch low down with his right hand.

At luncheon Surrey were 89 runs ahead and had still four wickets in hand. H. M. Garland-Wells proceeded to deal almost exclusively in 4's, and after he had hit Hearne to most parts of the field, Hearne should have had his revenge, but Allen, at mid-off, missed a catch he would hold 99
times out of a hundred. He made 43 in 35 minutes and then was caught deep at extra-cover-point off Hearne. Smith continued to display the admirable qualities of length, pace, and stamina, and,
by the time the total had reached 355, he had got rid of P. G. H.
Fender and Gover. Watts had
meanwhile journeyed adventurously into the forties this was not one of his best innings. In the attempt to reach his 50 he swung round at a short ball from Smith,
hit it, and called for a second run.
Holmes was fielding at long leg,
however, and his pick-up and throw-in were just about three yards too much for Watts.

Varied Fortunes
Middlesex began their second innings at 3.30, 175 runs behind,
and Price and Hart did nobly for their side by scoring 50 runs together in under 40 minutes and getting Gover taken off. The virtue of their cricket was enhanced by the fact that the light was far from good, and when the batsmen went in to tea the total was 61
and Middlesex must have had

12 midnight. Dja Sign On (German, English).

hopes that they would save the match. Afterwards things went well for a time for Middlesex, and then very badly indeed. The score was raised to 80, and then Hart was brilliantly caught and bowled
by Fender at 101. Hearne was bowled, at 114. Fender hit Hendren's off-stump.

Price was playing splendid cricket, and many of his strokes
would serve as admirable illustrations for text-books, but when he had made 76 he was missed deep at square-leg off Fender. Price, after making 11 more runs, was out to a clever slip catch by Watts off Holmes, and, although his innings was not faultless, he had shown how delightful cricket can be when there are batsmen who prefer the off-drive and the cut to the nicely calculated deflection to long-leg. No other wicket fell before bad light stopped play at 6.15.

The match between the Army and the Public Schools ended in a draw at Lord's. The Army, set 200 to make to win in an hour and a half in the fourth innings, had made 165 for the loss of two batsmen, with 40 minutes left for play, but bad light then put a stop to
the game.

The Army had added only eight runs to their overnight score before another wicket fell, J. H. N.
Foster being bowled by Darewski,
but R. J. Packe, batting as freely as on the previous day, made the score mount freely, and looked well set for his century when, in attempting to cut a high rising ball from Mayhew he only just touched it, and was easily caught at slip. R. G. W. Melsome did not stay long before he was bowled by a googly from Hayfield, but both
J. W. A. Stephenson and P. M.
Hughes both hit hard and added
28 quick runs for the seventh wicket.

Hard Hitting
C. J. Myburgh hit T. G. L. Ballance twice in one over to the distant boundary of the Grand Stand, the wickets being pitched well over towards the Tavern side of the ground, and was missed at slip off the ball between. This mistake did not greatly matter,
for two overs later the batsman was well caught at mid-off in attempting a big drive off Ballance.
The Schools' total was passed with nine wickets down, Hughes hitting brilliantly and reaching his 50 before the innings closed for 319, a lead of 16 runs. Darewski was the most successful of the bowlers.

When Nuttall left, well caught at long off, and M. H. Bell came in, the scoring was for a time terribly slow, far too slow considering that the game was already safe. It must be allowed that the really admirable fielding of the Army was calculated to keep runs down.
When at last Yardley's patient innings was closed by a catch at slip he had been batting two hours for 63 of which he made 25 in the first half-hour.

When the tea interval arrived it was quite impossible for a safe declaration to be made, but after it Bell and J. H. Pawle, playing delightfully free cricket, quickly took the score to 200 before the later was out in trying to force
the pace. Mayhew, Walford, and Hayfield went in and out in rapid succession in a rather farcical attempt to make quick runs, and at 5.20 came the declaration leaving the Army 200 to make in an hour and a half, if the extra half-hour was claimed. Bell reached his 50
just before the close.

The Army accepted the challenge nobly. Hudson and Hamilton attacked the bowling fiercely. Thirty runs came in the first quarter of an hour, 70 in the half hour, and ahead of the clock. Then came a setback. Hamilton was run out at 73 in attempting a quick third run for a hit of his partner's.
Nelson, the next comer, was caught
at the wicket in trying to drive
Darewski before he had scored.
Hudson, however, completed his 50 in 40 minutes, and with half the time gone the score was 90,
only 10 behind schedule. Foster,
a forcing batsman, was sent in next, and runs came quickly, but then the weather took a hand in
the game.

"Keep 'Em Rolling"

The dramatic story of enlisted man in the regular army is the theme of "Keep 'Em Rolling" R.K.O. Radio Picture with Walter Huston and Frances Dee, now playing at the Central Theatre. Huston portrays Benny Walsh, an incorrigible recruit back in 1915 at Fort Myer, Virginia, where "Keep 'Em Rolling" has been filmed with the 16th Field Artillery and 3rd Cavalry. He finds kindred spirit in a horse, Rodney, who is equally boisterous. They became fast friends, Benny and Rodney are separated, then reunited, go to battle during the world war; are wounded while Rodney salvages an artillery cannon from deep mud to rescue an ambushed regiment; decorated for bravery, and return to Fort Myer. Now their peaceful years are interrupted by an efficiency expert who rules them out of the army. Marjorie Deane, Benny's superior's daughter and his life-long friend, risks her engagement to the efficiency officer to help Benny. Frances Dee, the memorable Meg of "Little Women," is seen as Marjorie. George Archambault directed.

"OPERATOR 13"

An Excellent Production

"Operator 13" which opened yesterday, at the Queen's Theatre, must be placed on record as one of the best historic productions to come from Hollywood in a long time.

It serves as the newest starring vehicle for Marion Davies, the lovely blonde star, with the handsome Gary Cooper as her new leading man.

At the initial showing yesterday, it drew crowded houses to the ever popular Queen's Theatre and all those who saw it were unanimous in the "vote" that it was the best picture. "They had seen for a long time."

The management of this Theatre are always happy in their choice of programmes and one can imagine what is on the "menu" when it is said that the current programme is par excellence.

Lowe is always outsmarting McLaglen. He recovers $20,000 from a sunken tug while McLaglen gets only the empty safe. Sally Blane, owner of one of the tugs, is another bone of contention and, in a fight over her, Lowe hurls McLaglen into the ocean.

Lowe is arrested for murder, and McLaglen, who is saved, keeps out of sight hoping Lowe will be hanged. Finally however, McLaglen returns to the tug, and he and Lowe go below the surface on a $200,000 salvage job. Here occurs an under-water battle among four divers, from which only McLaglen and Lowe are saved.

As a beginning, we have a Hearst newsreel—a really interesting one and this is followed by one of those riotous Laurel and Hardy comedies, which serves to whet the Appetite for the feature film.

The picture has been taken from the last and best novel written by the master story-teller, Robert W. Chambers, and Richard Boleslavsky becomes a serious contender for an Academy award because of the deft touch of his direction.

The story concerns the love conflicts between Miss Davies, as a Union spy, and Cooper, as a Southern spy, with the Civil War as the background.

Scenes famous in American history are authentically reproduced in the picture and many famous characters of the Civil War are re-born again upon the screen—Abraham Lincoln, Allan Pinkerton, Pauline Cushman, General "Veb" Stuart, and many other historical names.

Again Miss Davies has surrounded herself with an excellent cast, all of whom present finished performances—Jean Parker, Katharine Alexander, Ted Healy, Russell Mardie, Henry Wadsworth, Sidney Toler, Douglas Dumbrille, Willard Robertson and last but not least—these kings of radio entertainers, the Four Mills Brothers, who contribute the plantation melodies.

"Strictly Dynamite"

Piercing the ether waves and peering behind the scenes of a radio broadcasting station, "Strictly Dynamite" lavishes its comedy on the colourful characters who entertain radio listeners. The RKO Radio laugh hit comes to the King's Theatre next Sunday with Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante and Lupe Velez in the starring roles.

Passing in review behind the microphones are comics, gagsters, agents, bodyguards, beauties and even great Dane dogs. The routine revolves about Moxie Slaght, a big shot radio fustier who contends he is genius personified, but is really a sap. Revelling in the pseudo-aesthetic, Moxie demands a gag writer material adapted to his flagrant complex. George his agent, dupes Moxie into accepting Mick Montgomery, a disheartened poet, having an eye upon pretty Mrs. Montgomery.

Nick's material is poor, but he rides high on Moxie's reputation. Vera Moxie's tempestuous partner lures Nick away from Sylvia. When the truant returns, Moxie surprises them by enthusing over a poem Nick has written, said to be the most convulsing climax ever screened, Moxie's delivery of the poem on the air establishes the success of his programme. The Four Mills Brothers appear in "Strictly Dynamite" as real life broadcasters, singing the new catch rhythms, "Money in My Clothes" and "Swing It Sister." Durante and Miss Velez contribute musical specialties. Durante vocalizing his own "I'm Putty in Your Hands" and "Hot Patata," and Lupe introducing "Oh Me, Oh My, Oh You," all of which promise to be popular melodies.

"Strictly Dynamite" also presents Eugene Palette, Minna Gombell, Sterling Holloway, Franklin Pangborn and Jackie Searl, under the direction of Elliott Nugent. Robert A. Simon

THE WANDERING JEW

Coming To The Queen's

The musical accompaniment for "The Wandering Jew" the picture coming on Sunday to the Queen's Theatre, was composed and arranged by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld. Dr. Riesenfeld is recognised as being the most celebrated cinema musician in the world. He became famous in 1918 as the director of music at the Rialto Cinema, New York, where his orchestra took precedence over the film in the billing. He composed and arranged the musical accompaniment for many famous silent films, including "The King of Kings," "The Sea Beast," "The Ten Commandments" and much of "Ben Hur." He has specialised in finding, and if necessary composing, music which blends with the atmosphere and period of the film, and he worked on "The Wandering Jew" with this effect in mind with the result that the music forms a genuine background to the historical pageantry of the film. Dr. Riesenfeld came to England at the request of Mr. Hagen solely to arrange the music of "The Wandering Jew."

and Robert T. Colwell wrote the story from which Maurine Watkins and Ralph Spence wrote the scenario. Additional dialogue was provided by Milton Ralson and Jack Harvey.

"BLOOD MONEY"

At The Oriental

The vengeance visited on a renegade policeman-turned-gangster as his crook pals put him on the spot is but one of the many exciting sequences in "Blood Money" showing at the Oriental Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

Bill Bailey the Bondsman, played by George Bancroft, makes a magnificent living by helping politicians, crooks and grafters of all kinds out of the trouble they get into when they run foul of the law.

He fronts for them brazenly until the young brother of Ruby, his girl, played by Judith Anderson, skips bail under circumstances that look like a double cross. In retaliation, Bailey turns him in. Ruby's scorn is unbounded.

"Remember, the thieves made you and the thieves can break you, you copper!" is the scathing taunt flung at her one-time lover—and the battle starts!

The machinations of Bill Bond Row, the corrupt dealing of political schemers and the underground tactics of gangland are all ruthlessly exposed in this 20th Century production, presented by Joseph M. Shenck and Darryl Zanuck. The story is packed with thrills and unexpected plot twists.

NO MORE WOMEN

And A Battle Under Water

The care taken to furnish the most scientific and modern equipment to the company making "No More Women" the Paramount picture based on deep-sea diving which opens to-day at the King's Theatre, is believed to have saved the life of Victor McLaglen, co-starred with Edmund Lowe in the production.

McLaglen got into his diving suit one day, while the troupe was on location off Catalina Island, and was lowered into forty feet of water. He signalled when he wished to come up, but the lines became tangled and he was under the surface much longer than usual.

Ridgen Crawford, the expert driver in charge, realizing how long McLaglen had been down, feared an attack of the "bends" that paralysing malady to which divers are exposed. The star was hustled into the decompression tank, which obviates the "bends" by reducing the air pressure gradually instead of suddenly.

"The invention of this decompression apparatus has greatly reduced fatalities among divers," said Crawford. "In the early days the 'bends' attacks were likely to prove fatal, but now there is little danger. McLaglen may have been all right, but he looked pretty badly when we got him up and I didn't want to take any chances."

Once more McLaglen and Lowe are rivals in "No More Women"—this time as deep-sea divers on competing salvage tugs. As usual

CHINESE DOCTOR IN COURT

Ching Chau, described as a Chinese doctor was brought before Mr. Macfadyen yesterday on a charge of possession of 36 po piu lottery tickets at Connaught Road Central.

The defendant was arrested by a Chinese detective on information. The tickets were found in an upper jacket pocket. It is alleged that the defendant resisted arrest.

Defendant giving evidence stated that he lived at No. 333, Shanghai Street. Leung Man-ho, employed as lift-boy at Butterfield and Swire, owed him $50 and had promised to make good the debt. When he went to get payment, Leung sent for a policeman. Defendant contended that he was arrested in the lane near Butterfield and Swire's offices, and that the tickets were "planted" on him.

The magistrate adjourned the case till to-day when the lift-boy will be called. Defendant was released on bail of $30.

SIX MONTHS FOR SNATCHER

Sentence of six months' imprisonment was passed by Mr. Macfadyen yesterday on a Chinese convicted of stealing a handbag from a woman, Wong Yuk, outside the Queen's Theatre at about noon on Tuesday.

The defendant was seen by a Chinese detective who promptly had the snatcher arrested.

In passing sentence Mr. Macfadyen said that the fact that the defendant was unsuccessful made no difference to the gravity of the offence.

A WAR VETERAN

Ching Yik, (68) a seaman in the Merchant Service during the World War appeared before Mr. Macfadyen yesterday on a charge of hawking his wares in a prohibited area. It was mentioned by Sub-Inspector L. Mist that the defendant had special recommendations from the Admiralty.

Defendant who had a licence since 1929, and whose record was a clear one, was fined $1.

A FREE MEAL!

When Wong Yau was charged at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday, he was accused of ordering a $15 meal from a restaurant, to be taken to his home, and to have removed from the floor when the bill-collector called.

A legal point arose about whether instead of false pretences, fraud should have been the proper charge—that at the time he ordered the food the accused person had had no intention of paying.

This was, however, borne out by an admission in his signed statement to the Police, and on this he was convicted of obtaining credit by fraud, and sentenced to a month's hard labour.

SUMMONS DISMISSED

Two summonses against Mrs. M. F. P. Laurence in respect of rubbish creating a nuisance at Nos. 6 and 38 Bulkeley Street, Hong Kong, were dismissed by Mr. E. L. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday following a successful plea by Mr. M. W. Lo, appearing for the owner.

Mr. Lo explained that after the rubbish was removed from these empty floors in compliance with the Sanitary Department notice, a fresh deposit was made by what appeared to be next-door neighbour choosing a convenient method of disposing of their house refuse. Mr. Lo added that the situation was one beyond the control of the owner, and suggested that this was where the Sanitary Department could lend their co-operation.

IMPROPER BENZINE STORAGE

Summoned for improper storage of benzine, Li Hop-joi, manager of the Pacific Rubber Manufactory, at Sunchoy St., Shamshuipo, was fined $100 by Mr. Wynne-Jones at Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

According to Mr. J. C. FitzHenry, the benzine was in drums and was stored near where women operatives were employed. A storage tank and pump outside the building had not been used, apparently because of its inconvenient location.

Exits and other requirements were correct, but the improper storage of benzine reacted against the whole system of providing the maximum degree of safety for the workers. Mr. FitzHenry regarded the case as serious especially in view of the fact that defendant had been warned once before.

UNAUTHORISED THEATRE

Four women and one man appeared before Mr. Hamilton yesterday with presenting a play on third floor of No. 140 Johnstone Road without the permission of the Hon. I.G.P.

One of the women, Kwok Yee took all responsibility and the case against the other persons was accordingly withdrawn. She was fined $50 or one month's hard labour.

Inspector Andrew said the defendant was running a theatrical performance and there were about 119 persons present, including children. There were absolutely no precautions against fire and no ventilation.

AT THE MARINE COURT

Unlawful Dredging

Leung Shu, 33, mistress of Boat No. B3303V, Li Sam 43, mistress of Boat No. A4570V and Wong Lau Man, master of Boat No. A5380V, all appeared before The Hon. Comdr. G. F. Hole at the Marine Court yesterday morning, charged with using grappling irons or other means for the purpose of lifting articles from the bed of the sea at the Kauri Typhoon Shelter last Tuesday afternoon, without having the permission from the Harbour master.

All the defendants admitted their offences and were each fined $10 or one week hard labour in default.

LEAVING PORT WITHOUT A CLEARANCE

For leaving port without having a clearance from the Harbour Office near the Ching Hui Island last Tuesday morning, Chan Chen aged 28 years, steerman of Junk No. T2421H, was fined $10 or one week hard labour.

DUMPING RUBBISH

A fine of $5 or in default five day hard labour was imposed on a Chinese coolie named To Ngau Si, who was charged with dumping rubbish into the Victoria Harbour without the permission of the Harbour Master.

VICIOUS ATTACK ON CHRISTIANITY

Berlin, Aug. 28. For publishing an article containing a vicious attack on Christianity from the pen of a certain August Hoppe who described himself as a "Press representative" of the Hitler youth, the periodical "Nordland" has been suspended for one month.

Investigations showed that last May, Hoppe was dismissed from his post of a minor Press representative of the Hitler youth for the publication of a similar article in a small newspaper in Westphalia.

ECHOES OF 1861

59—Lament On Detective's Suicide

It would seem that Chinese consciences are more accessible to shame and remorse than those of Europeans. Our contemporary of the "Register" states that Chun Akum, the well known Chinese detective, has committed suicide in goal where he had been confined on a charge of receiving money under false pretences. That is to say "fobbing some tip" in one sense of the word and using "palm oil" in another.

Poor Chun Akum; had he but possessed impudence he would have been as safe as a three decker. Modesty was his failing, his conscience pricked him and he slew himself. The best of us has our price and even when Christians pray they are taught to say from their cradles, "lead us not into temptation." Ah, Akum, has thou been honest, a black swan would not have been worth seeing! A "rara avis" indeed hadst thou been Akum, for though led into temptation, thou mayest not have been of a suretywert thou driven to it. Couldst thou have proved legally all thou knew positively, we think there was enough of truth in thee to have made the attempt. But British law was an enigma to thee Akum, and many a time and oft hast thou seen the innocent punished, and the guilty set free.

just as it best pleased those who had defiled justice and made her a prostitute. The few paltry dollars that tickled thy palm, Akum, for doing what was not worth thy efforts while, have brought thee into all this grief, whilst they whose doings amazed thee have been pensioned and feasted and petted, because they had brows of brass and were totally unencumbered either with shame or conscience. Anstey's fall must have made thee quail and including the conviction that British jurisprudence if not guided by venality was governed by fatalism, caused thee to doubt the adage of honesty being the best policy.

Ains for poor Akum. Speaking by comparisons, his sins were small, his punishment severe. Doubtless he had the same excuse as Eggs and dozens of others, and although the plea may be bad in law, still that was not discovered until a career of guilt had been run and ended. All these cases seem a sad melancholy caricature of the maladministration of affairs in this Colony, and really we cannot see how the stigma is to be removed, if the immunity granted to offenders by the last administration is to be ratified by the present one.

LARGER CARGOES WITH LESS FUEL

First Tests Of The New "Arcform" Ships

Singapore, August 23.

"I have not only proved that I have made a very substantial increase in propulsive efficiency, but have at the same time increased deadweight carrying capacity."

The words are those of Sir Joseph Isherwood in reply to a critic, after laying the whole data of trials and first voyages of his "Arcform" ships before the North-East Coast Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders.

Stripped of technicalities, the remark quoted above means, in effect, that the new "Arcform" ships have proved that they can carry a large cargo on a small fuel consumption—in other words, that they are more economical.

Sir Joseph Isherwood's claims are based, not only upon trial with models in the Yarrow Tank of the Frazer Laboratory at Teddington and in other experimental tanks but on trials, and most conclusive of all, on actual freight-carrying voyages, at sea.

The whole evidence upon which these claims are based and the discussion and correspondence on the subject are set out in "The Arcform Ship: Trials and First Voyage Performances," published by the North East Coast Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders.

28 Tons Of Coal A Day

The first "Arcform" ship, the Arcwear, carried a cargo of coal to Buenos Aires from Immingham on her maiden voyage. On this voyage of 6,374 miles the ship averaged a speed of over ten and a half knots on an average coal consumption of under 20 tons of coal per day, despite the fact that bad weather was encountered during about a quarter of the voyage.

This result is exceptional, and has been proved by the return voyage of the same ship and by the maiden voyages of her sister ships, the Arctos and Arcgow, to be no mere freak.

Moreover, reports from the officers of these ships show that they are exceptionally good seaboats. The Arcwear, with a 30-mile-an-hour gale blowing on her bow, a rough sea and a heavy beam swell, had a mean angle of roll of only 12 degrees. Added to this is the fact that the ships are very "dry" in a heavy sea and that the roll is regular and easy.

This is an important point, for it reduces enormously the risk of cargo shifting—that most dangerous of accidents which may befall a merchant ship in a seaway.

Prospect Of New Orders

There can be no doubt that Sir Joseph Isherwood's new hull designs are a great advance on the old "box-like" section, with their consequently greater wetted surface and skin friction.

A more efficient and economical design of merchant ship is to be welcomed. It is the only effective answer to the fact that freights have dropped below remunerative levels. And another, most important result of the new form is to be expected.

So soon as its efficiency becomes generally known and appreciated, shipowners all over the world will, when faced with the alternative between losses and replacement of old tonnage, seek to obtain more economical ships. There will follow, inevitably, an increase in foreign shipbuilding orders placed in Great Britain.

GERMAN SHARE MARKET

(Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.))

Berlin, Aug. 28. Prices in the sharemarket continued rising on Tuesday largely owing to the continued effect of Schacht's Leipzig speech setting forth the plans for the rehabilitation of Germany's foreign trade relationships. Moreover, the news from the Leipzig Fair indicated that business was brighter than had been expected. Fixed interest securities continued to be buoyant, the city loans being especially firm.

Call Money 4½ to 4½, Young Loan advanced ½ to 93½, Reichsbank 4½ firmer to 155½, Dyckerhoff 1½ higher to 184½, Salzkottbusch Potash advanced 1½ to 183½, German Steel Trust unchanged at 41½, German Mineral Oils rose ½ to 115½, Siemenshalek jumped 2½ to 148½, Bemberg Rayon improved ½ to 70½.

PROFESSIONAL ETIQUETTE

DOCTOR'S HONOUR VINDICATED

Sequel To Chinese Woman's Death

"We find and agree that Dr. Li Ping Sham carried out his duties in a professional manner," This, in part, was the verdict returned by the jury empanelled at Central Magistracy yesterday to inquire into the death of a 23-year old Chinese woman named Chan Tai Hei who was found in her house at No. 1 Tai Yuen Street, third floor, on the morning of July 14, suffering from narcotic poisoning from which she subsequently died at the Government Civil Hospital.

It will be recalled that at the previous hearing, allegations of professional misconduct against Dr. Li Ping Sham were made by two of deceased's fellow tenants and her amah who alleged that when the doctor was called to the house, the first thing he did was to demand $75 before treating the patient.

Dr. Wellington's Evidence

Dr. Li in evidence, denied these allegations saying that the first thing he did on arriving at the house was to give the patient an injection of entrophine sulphide. The deceased was unconscious at the time. He admitted that he later enquired who would make the payment if he washed out the stomach, but at the same time explaining that this method seemed to be useless as the deceased was in such a serious condition.

Mr. E.W. Hamilton sat as Coroner, and the following comprised the jury: Messrs. D.O. da Silva (foreman), G.H. White and V. Petherick.

"Sound Treatment"

Dr. Khoo Fun Yung of Government Civil Hospital who was the first to see the deceased on her admittance to the hospital, said that the deceased was admitted at about 7.40 a.m. on the morning in question. She was unconscious and appeared to be suffering from some poisoning; of what he could not say. Her condition was moribund. He gave her an injection of strychnine and sent her down to Dr. Thomas's ward. He later found out that deceased suffered from opium poisoning.

Coroner: According to your medical experience, can anything be done about half an hour before you saw her?—I cannot say.

If opium is the cause, do you agree that the initial treatment is an injection of entrophine sulphide?—It is not the main treatment, but I agree that such treatment is sound.

Would you, wash the stomach out?—It depends on her condition. If her condition is bad she might die. I would wash the stomach out if the patient's condition warranted.

Li Chi Sau, an office assistant of Dr. Li Ping Sham, told the court that he received a telephone message from Dr. Li's residence sometime after five but before six o'clock that morning, asking him to bring the stomach pump. He brought the pump in a car to Dr. Li's residence from where he was instructed to go to deceased's house. He arrived there at about 6.

Dr. Li on being recalled said that before he went to deceased's house he left instructions to ring up his office for a stomach pump. He had been told before he left his house, that it was an opium case. He remained in the patient's house not more than 15 minutes.

Dr. A.R. Wellington

Dr. A.R. Wellington, C.M.G., Director of Medical and sanitary services and senior Government medical officer, was then called. The Coroner informed the jury that the reason why he called Dr. Wellington was not in connection with the case but on the point of medical etiquette.

Dr. Wellington informed the court that having come to the patient it was the duty of the doctor to do what he could for the patient without discussion of fees. If the doctor was convinced that he could do no good and was only offering to do something for the relief of the minds of the friends he thought he (the doctor) was perfectly justified in not taking any action because it would only mean taking up more of the doctor's time for no useful purpose. If it was in the doctor's mind that he could do some good, he should have done it.

The summing up

In his summing up, the Coroner told the jury that their deliberations must fall very clearly on two separate fields.

"In the first place," said the Coroner, "you have to consider what caused the death of the deceased, Chan Tai Hei. That, you have the medical evidence of a post mortem. I think that it was perfectly straightforward. You will then have to find, if I presume you will find opium poisoning, how the deceased came by that poisoning. If you consider in the evidence that it was administered to her either forcibly or by trick by any other person it may be your duty to bring in a verdict of murder. If you consider that it is a reasonable probability or almost certainty that the deceased took that opium herself, of her own free will, you must find a verdict of suicide. Further, however, if you consider that there is not sufficient evidence to decide with reasonable certainty as to how deceased took that poison, you are at liberty to find that death occurred through opium poisoning and as to how it was taken there is not sufficient evidence to say. I am afraid that it is only too true that opium is very easily obtained in Hongkong."

Continuing, the Coroner said that although the deceased's neighbours had told them that the husband and the deceased were on perfectly good terms, the husband himself had frankly stated that there had been a certain amount of friction between them owing to jealousy on the part of the woman.

Referring to the behaviour of Dr. Li, the Coroner said that he would point out at once that Dr. Thomas had stated that an injection after half an hour did not make any difference on the condition of the deceased. That precluded any possible verdict of manslaughter. But, if the jury found that Dr. Li's behavior had not been what it should have been, they might return a rider of censure.

"Difficult Matter"

Dealing with the allegations of deceased's fellow-tenants and her amah, the Coroner warned the jury that there was a certain suspicion in the allegations because they were not told to the Police in the first instance. It was only after a certain lapse of time that they did so. He must say, however, that their evidence was very serious, as it cast a slur on Dr. Li. He must also point out that their evidence was remarkably the same.

Reviewing the evidence of Dr. Li, the Coroner told the jury that the doctor had said that he gave the injection as soon as he got there. He further offered to wash the stomach and on his own showing asked for the fee. As regards Dr. Li's attitude after the injection he thought the jury would find the matter very difficult. It was very difficult to say what was in Dr. Li's mind. What Dr. Li had said was this "The woman was in a serious condition. I considered I could not wash out the stomach as I did not think it would be of any use. I then asked for payment."

"The Verdict"

The Coroner then went on to say that Dr. Li did not say whether the treatment was possible. The whole matter seemed to be "bought he to have done it on a bare chance?"

The Coroner concluded by warning the jury that if they were prepared to believe the original evidence, they must feel sure. It must be their honest opinion that

GERMAN FLYING BOAT

Record Attempt To Hong Kong

A message received by the Asiatic Petroleum Company yesterday was to the effect that a German flying boat had left Dessau on Tuesday on an attempt to set up a new record for the trip to Hong Kong. The distance is approximately 9,000 miles and if the boat arrives according to schedule, it will have achieved a remarkable feat which will rank as a high standard of efficient organisation.

The machine used for the flight is a Junker J. 52 and it belongs to the Deutsche Lufthansa Company which is the biggest air mail and transport company in Germany. It is not known, however, whether the machine used for the trip is a three-engined one or a single engined machine.

The Asiatic Petroleum Company will handle the re-fueling arrangements in Hong Kong. It is possible that the machine may also fly to Canton before going on to Shanghai.

It is not known what are the exact objects of the flight but it is probably a trial survey of conditions cut here, or else a mere delivery order for the Eurasia Corporation of Shanghai who are known to have ordered similar machines.

AT GENEVA

Checkmating The Drug Smuggler

Once again the Permanent Central Opium Board of the League of Nations has just met at Geneva. Whenever the subject of "dope" is due for discussion, the press men who keep the public informed about League activities sharpen their pencils. Something new is always coming to light in connection with the drug traffic, for the tricks of Bret Hart's "heavenly Chinese" were harmless parlor games compared with the wiles of the modern drug smuggler.

In Great Britain no important cases of dope smuggling have occurred, according to the annual report submitted by the British Government to the League. Almost every country in Western Europe, in fact, can present a cleaner bill in this respect than would have been possible five or six years ago. All are fighting the drug evil according to the plan of campaign outlined by the League of Nations. The 1929 Opium Convention has imposed severe restrictions upon imports and exports. Information is pooled at Geneva for the purpose of checkmating the traffickers. Moreover, under the 1931 convention, the actual manufacture of such drugs as morphine, heroin and cocaine in the world's factories is being confined to the quantities needed for medical and scientific purposes.

Statistics

Statistics of manufacture, and of import and export play an important part in the checking process which goes on at Geneva. The Permanent Central Opium Board revels in figures, which are received and co-ordinated from nearly every country in the world. Thanks to its activities, leakages of dope into the illicit traffic are frequently detected.

Success has not gone to the League's head. In spite of the succession of victories which it has registered against international gangs of traffickers with their headquarters in Berlin, Basle, Cairo, Holland and other places. Just now, it is preparing to meet the menace of large-scale drug smuggling from the Far East, which threatens the defence of Western Nations.

Dr. Li's behaviour had not been unsatisfactory or they might say his attitude was unfortunate.

After a retirement of about fifteen minutes, the jury returned the following verdict: "We find and are of the opinion that the deceased Chan Tai Hei of No. 1 Tai Yuen Street died from opium poisoning presumably self-administered. We find and agree that Dr. Li Ping Sham carried out his duties in a professional manner."

NO IMPORT DECLARATIONS

Protest By European Firms

Quite a number of well-known firms in the Colony were summoned before Mr. Hamilton at Central Magistracy yesterday with failing to furnish the Imports and Exports Department with a declaration of imported goods within the required period of seven days.

In admitting his summons in respect to 17 cases of "builders' hardware imported on the President Cleveland from New York on July 23, Mr. P. S. Cassidy, partner of Messrs. John D. Hutchison & Co., said the failure to declare was due to a change of staff, returns having got rather behind time.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Cassidy, "we were relying upon a reminder, which it is usual for the Department to send us in the event of a return not having been received by them. We rather think that any reputable firm, which has been conscientiously sending their returns, should, perhaps, be given some reminder. There are cases, of course, where it is impossible to supply details owing to the absence of documents. This is the first time we have been summoned, and I am asking for a nominal fine, or a caution."

Mr. J. Barrow, Assistant Superintendent of the Imports and Exports Department, said that reminders were sent out at the rate of 2,000 a month to all firms. All firms had also been warned through the Chamber of Commerce and other channels.

A fine of $20 was imposed. Mr. H. Owen Hughes, director of Messrs. Harry Wicking & Company, Ltd., appeared to answer the summons against his Company for failing to declare 20 boxes of oranges imported from Los Angeles on the President Cleveland. He admitted the offence and was fined $20.

Mr. Owen Hughes explained that the oranges were supposed to have been shipped from San Francisco, but owing to the strike they were not shipped from there, with the result that the shippers were late in sending their documents, and his firm did not receive them until August 3.

They did their best in the matter. They had been advised of the arrival of the goods, because it was refrigerated cargo, and delivery had to be taken at once. They took delivery and at the same time made out a declaration form on July 23 and kept it until they received the full particulars on August 3, and they sent the declaration certainly within a week of August 3, but he had been told it was received by the Department on August 15.

Mr. Hamilton: I cannot make any exception.

Mr. Owen Hughes: I am not asking for any exception, but merely wish to explain that we did all in our power, and the Department has had no cause for complaint against us in the past. I would like to say that on one or two occasions, we did receive reminders from the Department, and we were able on more than one occasion to show them that declarations had been sent. And on further search in their offices, the declarations were duly found.

Mr. Hamilton: I am extremely sorry to do it, but I must fine you $20.

Other Firms Summoned

Twelve other firms were summoned in respect of similar offences, the cargo in every case having been brought on the President Cleveland on July 23, and delivery taken either on the same day or the following day.

In all cases, the same fine of $20 was imposed, except in the summons against the Hong Kam Ham Company, No. 175 Lockhart Road which was cancelled, Mr. Barrow stating that the company had gone out of business two months ago.

Mr. G. Duncan, a representative of Messrs. W. R. Loxley & Company, Ltd., summoned in respect of three cases of hair preparation, pleaded guilty and stated that the matter was unfortunately overlooked as the clerk in charge of the business had suddenly died. Immediately they found that the declaration had not been sent, they reported the importation on August 20.

A fine of $20 was imposed. Messrs. Connell Brothers Company, Ltd., summoned in respect of 330 cases of Quaker Oats, and was fined $20.

Mr. P. H. Sin, pleaded guilty on behalf of the Hongkong Sporting Arms and Ammunition Store, No. 22 Pottinger Street.

A fine of $20 was imposed. The other firms fined $20 each were as follows:

Eastman Kodak Company, No. 87 Queen's Road, Central, importing eight boxes of films from New York. The Far Eastern Aviation Company Ltd., No. 20 Queen's Road, Central, importing one box of motor car supplies. Hang Tai & Fung Company, No. 53 Queen's Road, Central, importing 270 boxes of oranges from Los Angeles. Hongkong Silk Store, No. 50 Queen's Road, Central, importing one case of rayon goods from Yokohama. Oriental Drug Company, No. 90 Queen's Road, Central, importing five barrels of Salicylic acid from Los Angeles.

Thom's Groceries, No. 27 Des Voeux Road, Central, importing 235 boxes of oranges from Los Angeles. Wing Coffee Company, No. 119 Des Voeux Road, Central, importing 100 boxes of oranges from Los Angeles. Yau Hing Loong firm, No. 58 Bonham Strand, West, importing 53 cases of provisions from Kobe.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

"I certainly do not wish to put any of you in the position where you have to weigh your oath on the one hand and your real conscientious feelings on the other, and if any of you have any genuine belief that the death sentence is wrong, then if you will tell me, I will consider your exemption from such a jury as this, which involves a death sentence."

In these words the Chief Justice last week addressed a jury prior to their being sworn to hear a murder trial. The words ring with a fairness which we have come to expect from His Lordship. It seems futile in a murder trial to empanel men to serve on the jury, who honestly believe the death sentence to be wrong. Jurors are not bound to return a verdict of "guilty" against the person accused, but should the case reveal the guilt of an accused person, a jurymen, having sworn to do his duty, should not find himself quarrelling with his conscience so far as the verdict is concerned.

The question as to whether capital punishment should be abolished is one which has been raised, discussed, and analysed, from time immemorial. There appears to be no unanimity of opinion about it; even its efficacy as a deterrent to crime is open to question, since statistics reveal the most murders in a country where capital punishment still exists.

To most people it must be an unpleasant duty to sit on a jury where a fellow human being's life is at stake. However, the fairness with which murder trials are conducted in a British Court where every possible point in favour of the accused person or persons is brought to the notice of the jury, side by side with evidence weighing against the defence, makes the jury's task less unenviable. Furthermore there is always the reminder from the Judge to the effect that should any of the jurors entertain any doubt about the guilt of the person in the dock, the benefit of such doubt is to be given to the accused. Therefore to obtain a conviction in a murder case the Crown must satisfy the jury, beyond any reasonable doubt, as to the guilt of the person or persons in the dock.

We labour the point for a special reason. We feel the time has come when some sort of reform should be introduced into the local jury system. In the first place, members of the jury in a murder trial should not be allowed between the various adjournments to come in contact with the public. A jurymen once empanelled to sit on a case should not be allowed to discuss the merits of it with anyone else except his fellow jurors. In the second place, some steps should be taken to ascertain that the person called to serve on a jury has a sufficient command of the English language, not only to understand the evidence, but also to follow intelligently the speeches of Counsel and most important of all, the summing up by the Judge. Conditions prevailing here makes it necessary for people whose mother tongue is not English to serve on the jury. While there are a great number who are thoroughly at home with the English language, there are undoubtedly an equally large number who can be said to "speak English" who cannot follow the proceedings in Court. Exactly what process of elimination can be applied we do not know, but it seems necessary to introduce some method whereby one can be certain that each juror is thoroughly conversant with the English language. We fully appreciate that the answer is not easy to find, but that is all the more reason why a solution should be sought as soon as possible.

REMAND HOME ESCAPES

Two Juveniles
A Large

The first case of an escape from the newly commenced Juvenile Remand Home was reported yesterday.

"NO SECRET"

Said Sir Kingsley Wood, the Postmaster-General, in a speech at Aberdeen.

"I am betraying no secrets when I say that it is rather more difficult to obtain new telephone subscribers in Scotland than across the border."

"But once the Post Office has induced a Scotsman to become a telephone subscriber they generally keep him."

SITUATION IN INDIA

Civil Disobedience
At An End

Simla, Aug. 29. The curtain has fallen, I hope finally, on Civil Disobedience, due to the sturdy good sense of the mass of the people," declared the Viceroy of India, Lord Willingdon, in an important speech in the Legislative Assembly yesterday.

He declined to anticipate the recommendations of the Select Committee, but promised that the new constitution would be applied most expeditiously when Parliament enacted it.

The Viceroy foreshadowed a complete system of broadcasting throughout India and important developments in civil aviation, also the appointment of trade commissioners to foreign countries.

He alluded to the satisfactory basis of the Indo-Japanese agreement, and said that efforts were being made to establish a frontier agreement with China.

Embarrassment was caused to India by the influx of destitute refugees from Russia and Chinese Turkestan, while their expulsion across the intransigent mountains of Central Asia was repugnant to humanitarian principles. Their influx was dangerous and steps were being taken to check it and dispose of the refugees already in the country.

VON PAPAN AND AUSTRIA

Some Inside Facts

(Special Air Mail Service)

London, Aug. 15.

This is the inside story of the negotiation which led up to the acceptance by the Austrian Government of Herr von Papan's appointment as German Minister to Austria.

The delay was caused by Austria's insistence on the fulfilment by Germany of three conditions. They were:

The disbandment of the Austrian Legion in Bavaria;
The withdrawal of the 100 mark visa fee for German tourists visiting Austria; and
The cessation of Nazi propaganda by the Munich broadcasting station.

Germany met these demands with an evasion. She pointed out that Herr von Papan had been appointed especially to settle these matters, and requested to discuss them until his agreement had been accepted. In the end the Austrians gave way.

JOBS WANTED BY COLLEGE GRADUATES

AN OLD PROBLEM AND A SUGGESTED REMEDY

Qualifications Versus Personal Influence

From Our Own Correspondent

The difficulty of finding suitable employment for college and university graduates is a serious problem in China as it is in many other parts of the world. Every year thousands of students are turned out by mass-production from colleges and universities, but only a small minority appear to be able to find congenial employment. This problem is not one which merely concerns the careers of those graduates who are unemployed, but has a reaction upon the peace and order of society. While it is true that many young men desire to obtain a position but can find no door open, there are a number who found employment of some kind but were unable to carry on either, because they could not endure unpleasant or uncongenial conditions, or because the nature of the work was too remote from what they intended as a career. This indicates that, owing to trade depression, people have become "job-conscious," and desperately take refuge in any position they can squeeze into, regardless whether the work to be done is suitable or not.

Living conditions in rural districts are not attractive to the average college graduate, educated and brought up in an environment which has all the comforts and conveniences of city life. Nevertheless, the Government should pay close attention to its plans for rural reconstruction to providing more opportunities for college graduates, and at the same time reform the educational system in such a way as to encourage graduates to become rural workers—a field of activity in which their influence could be of the greatest service.

Recent Appeals

In response to recent appeals by college graduates, the National Government is planning to establish a "University Graduates' Employment Inquiry Office," and the Ministry of Education has instructed the various Government universities to establish employment bureaux with a view to placing students in positions upon graduation. With regard to these plans, the Ta Kung Pao is of opinion that, if the Government is really interested in providing employment for graduates, it should do more than merely recommend students to various individuals or private organizations as suitable candidates for positions. The Government should employ them itself. Modern industry in China has not yet been developed to any great extent, which makes it difficult for business circles to absorb the large number of graduates turned out annually. On the other hand, during the last few years the scope and range of State enterprises have widened considerably, and this naturally calls for the services of more and more specialists. For this reason, the Government should be itself able to provide positions for graduates, though it must be understood by those entering upon an official career that a Civil Service post is not a short cut to a fortune.

The Ta Kung Pao regards it as very unfortunate that the Government still has no regular procedure regarding the engagement of officials, the great majority of whom enter the Civil Service not by competitive examination, but through the "pull" of influential friends. The same state of affairs exists in the Provincial Administrations. This being the case, the Chinese Journal suggests that the Government should start reforming the employment system in its own organs before trying to exercise supervision over the provincial authorities in the matter of official appointments. And this leads up to another matter—improvement of the educational system itself. As the result of a special inspection conducted by the Ministry of Education recently into actual conditions in colleges and universities, measures have been taken for improvements and reforms to correct the weaknesses and corruption prevailing. The main items of reform which every college and university should follow are: Improvement of organization, rational adjustment of expenditure, elimination of superfluous academic departments, and arrangements for full-time professorships, instead of part-time posts. These recommendations the Ta Kung Pao thinks may help to cure the major weaknesses and pave the way to a betterment of conditions, but these measures are not altogether adequate.

Scarcity of Employment

The most important thing is that the educational authorities should formulate a fundamental policy of education, and insist upon the observance of discipline in its execution. In the absence of any fundamental policy, reform measures will inevitably meet with obstacles which it will be found difficult to remove. Take, for instance, the stipulation for full-time professorships. Owing to the rapid growth in the number of poorly endowed and conducted colleges and universities, many incompetent professors are engaged for part-time service. If competent men are to be engaged on a full-time basis, they will need more pay.

In view of the scarcity of employment, the Government's plan to restrict the graduation students of art and law and encouragement of the study of science and technology as a basic step to improve the unemployment problem among graduates will not be effective. With these difficulties before us, lack of competent professors, the ill-preparedness of college students, and the scarcity of employment—the Ta Kung Pao urges the authorities to make a plan which will solve these problems simultaneously. This plan must involve a reduction and rationalisation of colleges, which will result in the survival of good schools and the stability of educational funds, so that every college will be well-equipped and be in a financial position to engage competent professors.

With regard to the number of the students, this should be determined by the actual demands of the nation. At the same time primary education and the labour-scholarship system in villages should also receive encouragement.

HAPSBURG MONARCHY

London, Aug. 23.

In regard to Bucharest reports with reference to the Austrian throne, it is felt in London that Rumanian opinion does not approve of the adoption of any policy which might strain the solidarity of the Little Entente, and that both Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia still consider the Hapsburg restoration as incompatible with the maintenance of peace in Europe. ## RENEWED WEAKNESS OF STERLING

Shock For Foreign Exchange Market

London, August 29. The quietness of the foreign exchange market was rudely shattered to-day by sudden renewed weakness of sterling which touched 75.37 francs, a new low record since 1924. The dollar also firmed up in terms of sterling in sympathy with the franc.

It seems London was seller of sterling this morning, Paris following suit early in the afternoon, and the rate falling sharply in the absence of official intervention. The reasons for selling are very hard to obtain, but it is understood that continental operators believe that sterling will be stabilised around 70 francs to the pound though London bankers state that any stabilisation rumours are very premature.

INFLATIONARY MOVE
The underlying reason for the weakness being doubts regarding the future trend of the dollar with inevitable repercussions in sterling. It is interesting to note, contrary to London and Wall Street, that Mr. Henry Morgenthau's statement that gold profit eventually will be used to reduce the national debt is interpreted as an inflationary move by the continent.—Reuter.

GOLD STOCK PROFITS

New York, Aug. 29. Some monetary experts are of the opinion that the use of profit from gold stocks realised through devaluation of the dollar for budgetary purposes, announced by Mr. Morgenthau in his broadcast address last evening will be in the form of inflation since the profit would be converted into paper money issued for payment of the debt.

Wall Street, however, is reassured by the announcement because it declared that the proceeds of gold devaluation were under lock and key instead of being poured out immediately and swelling the already swollen reserves of the banking system where they have a potential credit expansion power of 28,000 millions instead of 2,800 millions which Mr. Morgenthau stated was gold profit.

When the gold profits are diverted to revenues undisclosed, it is believed soon that world recovery will be assured on a normally stable international currency.—Reuter.

AUSTRIA'S NEW CHANCELLOR

Some Facts About His Life

Baron Kurt von Schuschnigg comes from the class which the Austrians call Bauernadel—small farmers of good family rooted in the soil for centuries.

He is a Tyrolean, the son of a general, and was born on the shores of Lake Garda in the South Tyrol, which now belongs to Italy. He is a lawyer by profession, but fought with distinction in the war and was taken prisoner by the Italians.

A recent photograph of Dr. Schuschnigg

Dr. Schuschnigg has many solid qualities which made him one of the men on whom Dr. Dollfuss relied most securely, though he lacks the personal charm of his late leader, and is no great orator.

He is short-sighted, of middle height, with the dark hair of the typical Tyrolean. Grave, and at times almost forbidding in manner, he is a deeply religious Catholic brought up by the Jesuits.

It is an easy prophecy that she will quickly win the hearts of all British people."

PLESS ESTATES IN POLAND

Further Seizures

Warsaw, Aug. 28.

The huge estate and various factories and mines of the German Prince of Pless were seized Tuesday by the Government receivers at the order of the State Attorney's office in the city of Katowice in a summary action for collection of overdue taxation.

The fact that Pless appealed to the League of Nations some time ago was ignored. The Prince has been given fourteen days time for payment, the disputed tax sum amounted to nearly eleven million Zloty. Failing compliance, the Polish Government will auction the property now seized.

The court order asserts that Pless would neither pay his overdue taxes forthwith nor agree to any arrangements about the settlement of the claims by deferred instalment payments. The whole question of the lengthy and tangled tax dispute between Prince Pless and Polish Government, scheduled to come up for full discussion at an assembly of the League of Nations in September.—Transocean Kuo Min.

INDIAN R.C. MEETING

F. D. Pereira To Lead First XI.

LAWN BOWLS SUCCESS

At the annual meeting of the Indian Recreation Club held yesterday, F. D. Pereira, the Colony's first bowler was elected the Club's cricket captain. The nomination proved very popular and was carried with applause. A. R. Minu, also of Interport fame, was nominated vice-captain.

Mr. A. el Arcull presided at the meeting and in the course of his review of the year's achievements touched upon the fact that the Club had once again won the junior cricket shield. He expressed the hope that a livelier interest will be taken in cricket this year and that the senior and junior shields might adorn the walls of the Club by the end of the season.

Regarding lawn bowls, Mr. Arcull complimented the team on the success they have so far achieved. He said the Club would be unfortunate indeed if they failed to carry off the second division honours this season.

New Officers

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President: Mr. A. el Arcull.

Vice-Presidents: Messrs. Badian Singh and Abbas Khan.

Hon. Treasurer: Mr. A. K. Ismail.

AUSTIN AT THE WICKET

Not so many years ago Mr. H. W. Austin played cricket for Repton. His first act after the Davis Cup challenge round was to exchange the racket for the bat and play some village cricket in Sussex.

Representing Patching against a team from Huddersfield, he made 10 and 55, and took five wickets for 37. Afterwards he had to autograph his bat.

Such is fame!

LAWN BOWLS

Rumjahn Beats Duncan

Bowling consistently, D. Rumjahn, the only member of the Craigengower C.C. who is still in the running for the Lawn Bowls Singles Championship, defeated R. Duncan on the Club de Beccolo green yesterday by 21 shots to 14.

The game which was witnessed by a fairly large gathering of bowling enthusiasts, was exciting throughout, with Rumjahn always holding a slight advantage. The match lasted 24 hours and with this win, Rumjahn thus enters the semi-final.

YACHT CLUB'S ANNUAL MEETING

CHAIRMAN REVIEWS ANOTHER SUCCESSFUL YEAR

New Officers Elected

Mr. H. S. House presided at the annual meeting of The Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club yesterday, and in the course of his speech surveyed a successful year's work. He paid a tribute to the hard work of the Club's Secretaries and looked forward to another successful season.

Supporting the Chairman were Messrs. K. S. Robertson, R. J. Verall, G. R. Gandry, G. S. P. Haywood, J. Fleming and Commodore F. Elliot.

FINANCES IN SOUND STATE

The Chairman said:—Gentlemen,—It gives me pleasure to preside at this 30th meeting of this Club as deputy for our Commodore Mr. A. L. Shields who is just now in Canada. I have heard quite recently that he expects to be back and sailing his good ship "La Linda" somewhere about the middle of October and I'm sure we all trust he will be thoroughly restored in health.

The year has been fairly active and has been a successful one in all fields of activity. Financially, I think it is satisfactory, showing an excess of income over expenditure of $980.58. Though this includes a full year's working expenses in some directions without the corresponding income in others from which we gather a goodly part of our profits, one source is the Bar.

Secretaries Thanked

Our activities on the sporting side are well set out in the reports of the various Committees and indicate the amount of work which has fallen on our honorary Secretaries and our thanks are due to them for all the work they have so willingly undertaken to make things run so smoothly.

The Club 4-ton Cruiser Class continues to flourish and it affords me a lot of personal satisfaction that the design seems to fill the bill and has been the means of bringing in a matter of $400.00 to the Club funds.

I suggest to the Incoming Sailing Committee that they might consider the point of making them into a class within the Cruiser Class for the coming season's championship races.

We all wish our member Lt. R. E. D. Ryder R.N. the best of luck on his adventures into the Antarctic.

Indefinite Tenure

Repairs to the Club House have been kept down to the minimum in view of the rather indefinite tenure we have of the present building. But it is hoped with the facilities we proposed for the launching of our rowing craft that there will be no falling off in their activities and that we shall always be ready to resist the challenges of our friends further up the harbour, of Canton, and of Manila when they throw down the gauntlet.

With the return of Mr. Lock we look for a revival of interest in fencing and hope to see the members of the fencing club making use of our gymnasium.

The keenness of our lady members in the sailing section is a happy augury for the success of this side of our Club when we shall be able to give them enlarged quarters, at our new site, but I fear that this will hardly be possible before 1937 at the earliest.

The report and accounts were seconded by Mr. R. J. Verall and carried unanimously.

New Officers

The election of officers then took place and resulted as follows:

Commodore: Mr. A. L. Shields.

Vice-Commodore: Mr. H. S. House.

Rear-Commodore: Mr. G. G. Wood.

Joint Hon. Secretaries: Messrs. K. S. Robertson and M. I. de Ville.

Treasurers: Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews; Hon. Librarian: Mrs. H. S. House.

Sailing Committee: Commodore F. Elliot, Major J. A. Griffin, Commander W. G. Cowland, Messrs. B. Nease, G. H. Gandry, and N. V. A. Croucher.

Rowing Committee: Lieut. P. de N. Ramus, Messrs. E. Knudsen, C. B. Easterbrook, G. S. P. Haywood, J. E. Potter and E. B. Reed.

Bowls Committee: Messrs. A. Macfarlane, B. E. Maughan, and J. Bentley.

House Committee: Messrs. E. B. Carter, G. T. Padgett, E. J. D. O'Grady and V. Goulborn.

FRENCH LANDSLIDE

Paris, Aug. 28.
A strange catastrophe took place on Tuesday at the annual manoeuvres of a French colonial regiment near Beul in Algiers. As a company of fusiliers were furiously digging trench while "under fire" at the foot of the mountains, the loosening of the earth started a landslide so that an avalanche of granite and earth buried two soldiers, hundreds escaping by a narrow margin.

Both victims were later recovered, one of them dead while the other is suffering from serious injuries which are likely to prove fatal.

ROUND EUROPE
AIR RACEItalians Arrive At Last Moment

[Special to the "Hong Kong Daily Press" (Copyright.)]

Warsaw, Aug. 28.
Thirty-six planes took off on Tuesday noon for the International "Air Race round Europe" after impressive ceremonies conducted by President Moscicki on the flying ground here before multitudes of Polish citizens. Scores of huge flags of all competing nations fluttered in the breeze.

PRESIDENT MOSCICKI

The last minute arrival of the Italian entrants was the chief excitement of the opening day as it was feared that the Italians might follow the example of the French contestants on Sunday and default at the twelfth hour without any reason. Besides the Italians, the starters include squadrons from Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland. One English aviator, Miss Slide is taking part in the contest as observer, her plane being piloted by a fellow-countryman, Macpherson who, however, is flying under Polish colours.

The winner will receive besides the famous cup, a cash prize of 100,000 French francs while the second to finish gets 40,000 and the third 31,500. A score of special awards have been donated by prominent persons in Poland.

MURDER DISCOVERED IN WUCHOWBody Found Floating Down
West River

Wuchow.
The mutilated body of a well-known merchant has just been found near Konhhaa floating down the West River.

The merchant in question, with two companions, had been to the city of Nanning to buy merchandise. The goods had been purchased and the three men had come down the river in a small boat selling their goods in the cities and market towns en route. They reached the city of Kwangling when suddenly one night two men disappeared. Rumours of foul play leaked out and the third man was arrested and an intensive search was made for the missing men. This search resulted in the finding of the body of one floating down the West River. His head had a ghastly gash and a fairly large stone was tied to his neck. The stone, however, had not been heavy enough to keep the body under water.

The third man has not yet been found, but it is suspected that he and the man now under arrest may be jointly guilty of the crime.

Taking off at the Shekpat air-drome here every Wednesday morning at 7.30 a.m., the monoplane will arrive at Pakhoi at 1.45 p.m. on the same day. The machine will return to Canton tomorrow from Pakhoi at 8 a.m. and reach Canton at 2.05 p.m.

Popular U.S. Fruits
American oranges and lemons are increasing in popularity here. For the month of June, the amount of oranges consumed was $37,000. For the first six months of this year, the consumption of American oranges was said to be over $300,000.

American oranges are sold in almost every fruit stall. The price is usually twenty cents (16 cents H.K.) each. Oranges and lemons are used for making drinks during the summer months, while many "modern" people eat oranges after meals. Native oranges are cheaper, but they are not so juicy or strong in flavour. Children take American oranges as laxative medicine.

Water Supply for Honam.
Again it is reported that the municipal authorities will supply Honam suburb with running water from the main water works at Tsengpo, West of Canton. As Honam is an island, a large pipe will be laid across the bed of the Pearl River from the water works to that suburb. The municipal authorities say that it is inadvisable to establish a water works in Honam, as the river water there is not suitable for drinking purposes.

For many years, the Honam residents have been agitating for a water system. At present they use either well water or water from the Pearl River. As a result the streets near the river are always wet by the spilling of water by carriers. In case of a fire in Honam, it is difficult to get enough water to extinguish the flames.

LAND MUST BE
DEVELOPEDNew Regulations
Drawn In Up
Capital

Nanking, Aug. 28.
Vigorous steps are being taken by the Government against undeveloped land in the capital, especially along Chungshan Road, the main thoroughfare of Nanking. Owners of undeveloped land along the road are given six months to construct buildings over their property, or their land will be taken over by the Municipal Government at a price to be fixed by the authorities.

The Municipal authorities are dissatisfied with the fact that there has been very little building construction along the Chungshan Road, especially the section between Yi Chiang Gate and the Drum Tower. This is mostly due to the exorbitant prices fixed by owners of land along the road. As a result persons who are ready to put up buildings are prevented from doing so. In order to encourage building construction in the capital and to take suitable action against undeveloped land here, the Municipal Government has issued an order that beginning from July 16, 1934, all owners of undeveloped land within thirty metres on both sides of Chungshan Road must register their property with the Municipal Government within four months and must take out building construction permits from the same office within two months. At the end of six months when construction work has not yet been started, the Municipal Government will take over such land at prices to be fixed by the Government.

The matter was recently referred to General Chiang Kai Shek and instructions have been received from the Generalissimo to proceed with the proposed programme.

Canton, Aug. 28.
Commander Mok Fook Yu of the 1st Division of the Peace Preservation Corps, who has been busily engaged in drilling and training his men since he assumed office, has also been devoting his time to the solution of the bandit suppression question.

Since receiving orders from his superior officer, General Li Hon Wan to rid the West River Districts of bandits, it is reported that Commander Mok Fook Yu has ordered an officer named Chan Lun Li of the 1st Division of the Peace Preservation Corps to proceed to Tai Tin Mei, Shan Tons, Mak Sak Tang, Koon Yam Hang and other places to surround and capture the bandit lairs.

It is reported that after a serious fight lasting nearly the whole day, the Government's troops succeeded in killing a big number of bandits and capturing others, thus hiding all the West River Districts of the bandit menace.

CANTON SUGAR
MONOPOLYAnother Mill At Waichow

(From Our Special Correspondent)

Canton, August 28.
The exclusive production scheme of the Provincial Department of Reconstruction has turned out to be a success. It was learned today, as the sugar monopoly alone is making good money.

The sugar business is increasing, now that there is no more competition by Chinese merchants or importers of this commodity from Java. The monopoly yields more money following an agreement with the Kwangsi Provincial Government, whereby all the sugar consumed in that province is supplied by the sugar monopolist here known as the National Products Sales Office.

In Wuchow the consumption of sugar is 20,000 catty a day. The tow-boats from here to Wuchow are carrying heavy loads of sugar, and from Wuchow the government sugar is distributed to all parts of the province. The monopolist is given the exclusive right of supply of this commodity to Kwangsi.

However, the Kwangsi Provincial Government will eventually produce its own sugar. One factory will be established at Liuchow and another at Kweihsein, a sum of $500,000 being earmarked for each sugar mill. The people in Liuchow and Kweihsein are encouraged to grow sugar cane in order to supply raw materials to the government mills.

Contrary to vernacular press report, there is no dumping of foreign sugar in Canton. The government mill at Shuncho, 10 miles East of Canton, turns out only 50 tons of sugar a day. This amount is not sufficient to meet the demand in this province, hence the National Product Sales Office has to buy imported sugar at Hong Kong and in turn sell it here and tranship it to Kwangsi.

In view of the thriving business from the sale of sugar, the military authorities will establish the second sugar mill at Waichow on the East River, 80 miles from Canton. Sugar cane is grown in large quantity in Kwangtung, so that the government mills will have adequate supply of raw materials.

The other government monopoly is in tungsten or wolfram. At first most of the tungsten was found only in southern Kiangsi. As a result of investigation undertaken by the Provincial Department of Reconstruction, tungsten is found abundantly in the North River and the East River regions.

These minerals are secured by private mining companies and are sold to the government monopolist. Although prices of this ore have gone down owing to manipulation by buyers, the demand is still good. Armament firms in Europe and America are buying tungsten from Canton for the manufacture of various kinds of heavy guns. Local prices are said to be lower than those of other countries, while the quality is first class.

POVERTY AND DISTRESSGovernment Abolishes Tax

Canton, Aug. 28.

Since the placing of the Provincial Peace Preservation Corps under General Chan Chai Tong, Commander-in-Chief of the 1st Division Army, it has been decided to raise the necessary funds for its upkeep by taxing the salt fields of all the different coastal districts, the matter to be placed in the hands of the Finance Department.

Owing to the great poverty and distress which prevails among the country-people and the salt field owners, they have petitioned the Government for the exemption from taxation and as a measure of relief, the Government has finally decided to abolish the tax on salt fields and has instructed the Finance Department accordingly.

NEW YORK STOCK AND COMMODITY QUOTATIONS

AMERICAN ORIENTAL FINANCE CORPORATION AND S. E. LEVY &amp; CO.

New York, Aug. 29.

The American Oriental Finance Corporation's report through their New York agents, Messrs. E. A. Pierce & Co., states:—

Stocks:—The minor recession on a small volume of business indicates the likelihood that the market is technically stronger.

Wheat:—The tone was easy at the close. The rally was influenced by the strength of corn. Private corn estimates are expected to show a decrease from the Government figure of last month.

Cotton:—There was a consistent foreign and domestic trade demand. "Spot" offerings were light and the basis was high in the South. There was a good demand for actual hedging. Moderate rains in the South-east are causing complaints of boll-weevil. The textile labour situation was more favourable.

Rubber:—The market was dull and uneventful, with all interests awaiting developments.

Messrs. S. E. Levy & Company's report, through their New York agents, Messrs. White, Weld & Co., states:—

The market remained at this level for a greater part of the morning but business was eventually done at 1/6 9/16 for September and for the second half of September. At the close of the market 1/6 17/32 might have been obtained, but the market quotation was 1/6 9/16 with buyers at 1/6 9/16 September.

U.S. Dollars:—Were offered at 39 1/2 with buyers at 39 1/2. There was no reported business, the market closing with sellers at 39 1/16, buyers at 39 3/16 with 39 1/16 the likely business rate.

S. E. Levy & Co.'s Cables:—The following cabled reports were furnished by Messrs. S. E. & Co. last night:—

American Weather Report:—(New York, Aug. 29, 6 p.m.)

Unfavourable factors were:—The unsettlement of the wheat market, together with labour unrest is disturbing confidence.

Petroleum daily average 2.465.

Weekly electricity production 1,648 which is 1.1 per cent. over last year.

A special telegraphic service is to be provided between South India and Talaimannar in order that the safe passage of the air mail aeroplanes across the Palk Straits may be assured.

This will not involve any additional expense, since existing facilities are to be utilised.

As soon as the air mail plane leaves the coast of South India for Ceylon, the telegraphist at Dhanushkodi will inform the telegraphist at Talaimannar that the aeroplane has left India and is over the sea in the Palk Straits. In turn, the operator at Talaimannar will inform the operator at Dhanushkodi when the aeroplane arrives over land in Ceylon.

This arrangement is meant as a safeguard, so that in case the aeroplane delays to arrive at either end at the correct time, it will be known at once that the pilot may have met with an accident and a prompt attempt made to rescue him.

Another precaution which is to be adopted is the lighting up of the wireless masts in Colombo with beacons at night to prevent the air mail aeroplane striking against the masts at night when it is delayed on its flight from India and is unable to reach Ceylon in the day time. This precaution is necessary because the air mail plane's flight to and from Ratmalana will be diagonally across the east of Colombo where the wireless masts are situated.

The aeroplane at Ratmalana will be directly connected with Colombo by telephone.

NEW CRUISER FOR CHINA

Japanese Engineers To Help

Shanghai, Aug. 24.

A departure in the history of ship building in China will be marked at the beginning of September, when a group of about fifty Japanese engineers and experts will arrive at the Naval Ministry's Kiangnan Dock to help to complete China's newest cruiser under construction, Ping Hai—a task which still involves more than two years' work. She is estimated to cost approximately $8,000,000.

A sister ship of the Ning Hai, which was constructed in Japan, the Ping Hai will thus be the first Chinese cruiser built here with the Japanese assistance. Incidentally, she will be the biggest warship ever constructed by the Dock.

A message from Japan reported that order had been placed with a Japanese dock for the construction of a Chinese cruiser. Inquiries made locally revealed that no such order had been put in Japan. The fact that a group of Japanese engineers are being sent to China explains the origin of the report.

As the contract with the Japanese engineers starts in September, the group is expected to arrive in Shanghai in a week's time. It is understood that the contract will be in force until the completion of the cruiser.

The construction of the new cruiser began more than two years ago, with steel plates and certain parts of machinery imported from England. Lieut. Wang and several officers who had participated in the supervision of the construction of the Ning Hai in Japan have been attending to the building work.

The Ping Hai will be 360 feet overall, 39 feet beam, 3,000 tons displacement and is to have a speed of 23 knots. The vessel will be equipped with three 14 cm. turret guns; six 8 cm. anti-aircraft guns; four machine guns; and two twice mounting torpedo tubes. She will have two searchlights, wireless telephone and radio compass.

Ship With Deck Boilers

At a recent meeting of the Oslo Shipowners' Association, an interesting account was given by Mr. Meldahl, managing director of the Fredrikstad Mek. Verstedt, of the new Fredrikstad type of steamship. This is the first time that any details of this new type have been made public, and it goes without saying that the professional audience were deeply interested in the account of how the problem of placing the boilers in the superstructure amidships had been solved, and of the advantages accruing therefrom. The arrangement is particularly suitable for vessels with a good cubic capacity. As may be known, a 2,400-tonner of this type has been in service since November last and proved a splendid sea-going vessel. Despite the arrangement of the boilers she had suffered in nowise in point of stability. From the viewpoint of the stokers this arrangement offers a number of advantages, enabling them to do their work in day-light and under conditions which are as favourable as well-nigh possible.

Athos II Leaves To-day

The French Mail liner ss. Athos II arrives in port at 6 a.m. to-day from Kobe. She is sailing at 5 p.m. for Marseilles via Hongkong, Saigon, Singapore, Colombo, Djibouti, Suez, and Port Said. The ss.
